The Roaning Girl was Mary Frith, whose career is the subject of an amusing prose tract (published in 1662), entitled The Life and Death of Mrs Many Frith Commonly called Mal Cutpurse Exactly Collected and now Published for the Delight and Recreation of all Merry disposed Persons London, 12mo Prefixed to this tract is Moll's portrait, which is here reproduced on the opposite page for the reader s satisfaction The narrative is highly flavoured, but appears to have been based to some extent on authentic information Moll "was born 15891 in Barbican, at the upper end of Aldersgate Street" She came of honest parentage, her father being a shoe maker-"a fan and square conditioned man, that loved a good fellow next to himself, which made his issue be so sociable" Particular care was bestowed on her education, for her boisterous and masculine spirit caused her parents much solicitude Tomrig or Rumpscuttle she was, and delighted and sported only in boys play and pastime, not minding or companying with the girls many a bang and blow this hoyting procured her, but she was not so to be tamed or taken off from her rude inclinations, she could not endure their sedentary life of sewing or stitching, a sampler was as grievous as a winding sheet, her needle, bodkin, and thimble she could not think on quietly, wishing them changed into sword

and dagger for a bout at cudgels" When she had grown to be a "lusty and sturdy wench," she was put out to service, but house hold work of any kind was distasteful to her, and "above all she had a natural abhorrence to the tending of children, to whom she ever had an averseness in her mind equal to the sterility and barren ness in her womb, never being made a mother, to our best informa tion " Abandoning service, she assumed masculine attire, and "to her dying day she would not leave it off" She subsequently became notorious as a bully, whore, bawd, pickpuise, fortune teller, receiver Chamberlain in a letter to Carleton (dated 11th Feb ruary 1611-2), tells how she did penance at Paul's Cross bitterly on that occasion, and seemed very penitent, but it was after wards suspected that "she was maudlin drunk, being discovered to have tippled off three quarts of sack before she came to her At a later date she enjoyed the friendship of the notorious Captain Hind and of one Richard Hannam, a worthy who "constantly wore a watchmaker's and jeweller's shop in his pocket, and could at any time command a thousand pounds " She wavlaid at various times parties of Parliamentarians, and it is related (in Smith's Lives of Highwaymen) that she once robbed General Fair fax on Hounslow Heath, shot him through the arm, and killed two horses on which his seivants were riding, whereupon she was pur sued by some Parliamentarian officers (who were quartered at Hounslow), apprehended at Turnham Green, and sent to Newgate. finally procuring her release by paying Fairfax two thousand pounds On her expeditions she was often accompanied by a dog, which she had very skilfully trained to evil courses She kept in her service a gang of thieves Her constant practice of smoking is supposed to have conduced to her longevity, for she suffered from a dropsy which eventually despatched her in her "threescore and fourteenth year" The writer of the memoir shows Herodotus' disregard for dates Moll died in or before 1661 at the age of seventy four, she could not have been born so late as 1589 In Dodsley's Old Plays, x11 398, ed 1780, the writer of a note signed N states, on the authority of "a MS in the British Museum" (a somewhat vague reference). that she died at her house in Fleet Street on 26th July, was buried in the church of Saint Bridget's, and left by will twenty pounds that the Conduit might run with wine at the return of Charles II

I am not at all sure that Sir Toby refers to the Roaring Girl when he speaks of "Mistress Mall's picture' (Twelfth Night, 1 3) Mary Frith was too young to have come into notoriety when Twelfth Night was written, but the allusion may have been introduced at a later date. In his Shakespeare Glossary Dyce suggests—"After all, can it be that 'Mistress Mall's picture' means merely a lady's picture? So we still say 'Master Tom,' oi 'Master Jack,' to designate no particular individual, but of young gentlemen generally"

In August 1610, there was entered on the Stationers' Registers "A Booke called the Madde Prancks of Merry Mall of the Bankside, with her Walks in Man's Apparel and to what Purpose Written by John Day" It is not known to have been printed

Dyce and others have collected several early references to mad Moll I need not give them all two will suffice The first is from Freeman's Epigrams, Rubbe and a Great Cast, 1614—

"Epigiam 90

Of Moll Cutpurse disguised going

"They say Mol's honest, and it may bee so,
But yet it is a shrewd presumption no
To touch but pitch, 'tis I nowne it will defile, Moll weares the breech, what may she be the while?

Sure shee that doth the shadow so much grace,
What will shee when the substance comes in place?"

The second is from Field's Amends for Ladies, 1618 (where she figures in one scene) —

"Hence, lewd impudent!

I know not what to term thee, man or woman,

For Nature, shaming to acknowledge thee

For either, hath produc'd thee to the world

Without a sex some say thou art a woman,

Others, a man, and many, thou art both

Woman and man, but I think rather, neither,

Or man and horse, as the old Centaurs were feign d" (ii I)

A roaser of souring boy was a cant term for a riotous buck. The reader will have enough of roaring boys in A Fair Quarrel Nares remarks, "We meet with one roaring girl, but luckily only one, called also Moll Cutpurse," but there was an earlier virago—Long Meg of Westminster, whose "life and pranks" are celebrated in a black letter tract printed in 1582

TO THE COMIC PLAY READERS, VENERY AND LAUGHTER

THE fashion of play-making I can properly compare to nothing so naturally as the alteration in apparel, for in the time of the great crop doublet, your huge bom basted plays, quilted with mighty words to lean purpose. was only then in fashion 1 and as the doublet fell, neater inventions began to set up Now, in the time of spruceness, our plays follow the niceness of our garments. single plots, quaint conceits, lecherous jests, drest up in hanging sleeves and those are fit for the times and the Such a kind of light-colour summer stuff, termers 2 mingled with divers colours, you shall find this published comedy, good to keep you in an afternoon from dice at home in your chambers and for venery, you shall find enough for sixpence,3 but well couched and you mark it, for Venus, being a woman, passes through the play in doublet and breeches, a brave disguise and a safe one, if the statute until not her codpiece point

³ The ordinary price of a play I have seen many old plays which are marked in MS on the back of the last leaf "Price fo or 6d"

The book I make no question but is fit for many of your companies, as well as the person itself, and may be allowed both gallery room at the playhouse, and chamber room at your lodging. Worse things, I must needs confess, the world has taxed her for than has been written of her, but 'tis the excellency of a writer to leave things better than he finds 'em, though some obscene fellow, that cares not what he writes against others, yet keeps a mystical bawdyhouse himself, and entertains drunkards, to make use of their pockets and vent his private bottle ale at midnight,—though such a one would have ript up the most nasty vice that ever hell belched forth, and presented it to a modest assembly, yet we rather wish in such discoveries, where reputation hes bleeding, a slackness of truth than fulness of slander

THOMAS MIDDLETON

PROLOGUE

A PLAY expected long makes the audience look For wonders, that each scene should be a book, Compos'd to all perfection each one comes And brings a play in's head with him, up he sums What he would of a roaring girl have writ. If that he finds not here, he mews 1 at it Only we [do] entreat you think our scene Cannot speak high, the subject being but mean, A roaring girl, whose notes till now ne'er were, Shall fill with laughter our vast theatre 2 That's all which I dare promise tragic passion, And such grave stuff, is this day out of fashion I see Attention sets wide ope her gates Of hearing, and with covetous listening waits, To know what girl this roaning girl should be, For of that tribe are many One is she

That roars at midnight in deep tavern bowls, That beats the watch, and constables controls, Another roars i' th' daytime, swears, stabs, gives braves, Yet sells her soul to the lust of fools and slaves Both these are suburb roarers Then there's beside 1 A civil city roaring girl, whose pride, Feasting, and riding, shakes her husband's state, And leaves him roaring through an iron grate 2 None of these roaring girls is ours, she flies With wings more lofty, thus her character lies— Yet what need characters, when to give a guess Is better than the person to express? But would you know who 'tis' would you hear her name? She's call'd mad Moll, her life our acts proclaim 30

THE ROARING GIRL

ACT I

A Room in Sir Alexander Wengrave's House

Enter Mary Fitzallard disguised like a sempster, with a case for bands, and Neatfoot with her, a naphin on his shoulder, and a trencher in his hand, as from table

Neat The young gentleman, our young master, sir Alexander's son, is it into his ears, sweet damsel, emblem of fragility, you desire to have a message transported, or to be transcendent?

^{1 &}quot;At this time pewter was not introduced into common use Our ancestors were content with wooden trenchers and these were even to be found at the tables of our nobility and persons of good fashion Among the orders for household servants devised by John Haryngton 1566 and renewed by his son 1592, it is directed, 'That no man waite at the table without a trencher in his hand, except it be uppon good cause on paine of id' (Nuga Antiqua vol. ii p 267, ed 1779) See also the Northumberland Household Book p 354 Trenchers are still used in some colleges and inns of court particularly in Lincolns-Inn"—Reed

Mary A private word or two, sir, nothing else

Neat You shall fructify in that which you come for, your pleasure shall be satisfied to your full contentation I will, fairest tree of generation, watch when our young master is erected, that is to say, up, and deliver him to this your most white hand

Mary Thanks, sir

Neat And withal certify him, that I have culled out for him, now his belly is replenished, a daintier bit or modicum than any lay upon his trencher at dinner Hath he notion of your name, I beseech your chastity?

Mary One, sir, of whom he bespake falling bands 1

Neat Falling bands? it shall so be given him If you please to venture your modesty in the hall amongst a curl pated company of rude serving men, and take such as they can set before you, you shall be most seriously and ingeniously 2 welcome

Mary I have dined 3 indeed already, sir

Neat Or will you vouchsafe to kiss the lip of a cup of rich Orleans in the buttery amongst our waitingwomen?

Mary Not now, in truth, sir

¹ See note, vol in p 128 In Evelyn's Discourse on Medals 1697, p 108, is the head of Charles I crowned, in the garter robes, and wearing a falling band which new mode, says Mr Evelyn 'succeeded the cumbersome ruff but neither did the bishops or judges give it over so soon, the Lord Keeper Finch being, I think, the very first "—Reed Ingenius is frequently found for ingenius in old authors Cf The Maid's Tragedy, in I—

[&]quot;Amintor thou hast an ingenious look, And shouldst be virtuous

³ Old ed ' dyed "

Neat Our young master shall then have a feeling of your being here, presently it shall so be given him

Mary I humbly thank you, sir But that my bosom
[Exit Neatfoot

Is full of bitter sorrows, I could smile 30
To see this formal ape play antic tricks,
But in my breast a poison'd arrow sticks,
And smiles cannot become me Love woven slightly,
Such as thy false heart makes, wears out as lightly,
But love being truly bred i' th' soul, like mine,
Bleeds even to death at the least wound it takes,—
The more we quench this [fire], the less it slakes
O me!

Enter SEBASTIAN WENGRAVE with NEATFOOT

Seb A sempster speak with me, sayest thou?

Neat Yes, sir, she's there, viva voce to deliver her auricular confession

41

Seb With me, sweetheart? what is't?

Mary I have brought home your bands, sir

Seb Bands?—Neatfoot

Neat Sir?

 $\mathcal{S}\!\mathit{eb}$ Prithee, look in , for all the gentlemen are upon rising

Neat Yes, sir, a most methodical attendance shall be given

Seb And dost hear? if my father call for me, say I am busy with a sempster

Neat Yes, sir, he shall know it that you are busied with a needle woman

Seb In's ear, good Neatfoot

Neat It shall be so given him [Exit
Seb Bands? you're mistaken, sweetheart, I bespake none

When, where, I prithee? what bands? let me see them Mary Yes, sir, a bond fast seal'd with solemn oaths, Subscrib'd unto, as I thought, with your soul, Deliver'd as your deed in sight of heaven 60 Is this bond cancelled? have you forgot me?

Seb Ha! life of my life, sir Guy Fitzailard's daughter? What has transform'd my love to this strange shape? Stay, make all sure [shuts the door], so now speak and be brief,

Because the wolf's at door that lies in wait
To prey upon us both Albeit mine eyes
Are blest by thine, yet this so strange disguise
Holds me with fear and wonder

Mary Mine's a loath'd sight,

Why from it are you banish'd else so long?

Seb I must cut short my speech in broken language Thus much, sweet Moll, I must thy company shun, 71 I court another Moll my thoughts must run As a horse runs that's blind round in a mill, Out every step, yet keeping one path still

Mary Umph! must you shun my company? In one

Mary Umph! must you shun my company? in one knot

Have both our hands by th' hands of heaven been tied, Now to be broke? I thought me once your bride,

¹ The forms bond and band were used indifferently

100

Our fathers did agree on the time when And must another bedfellow fill my room?

Seb Sweet maid, let's lose no time, 'tis in heaven's book

Set down, that I must have thee, an oath we took To keep our vows but when the knight your father Was from mine parted, storms began to sit Upon my covetous father's brow[s], which fell From them on me He reckon'd up what gold This marriage would draw from him, at which he swore, To lose so much blood could not grieve him more He then dissuades me from thee, call'd thee not fair. And ask'd what is she but a beggar's heir? He scorn'd thy dowry of five thousand marks If such a sum of money could be found, And I would match with that, he'd rot undo it, Provided his bags might add nothing to it, But vow'd, if I took thee, nay, more, did swear it, Save birth, from him I nothing should inherit

Mary What follows then? my shipwreck? Seb Dearest, no

Though wildly in a labyrinth I go, My end is to meet thee with a side wind Must I now sail, else I no haven can find, But both must sink for ever There's a wench Call'd Moll, mad Moll, or merry Moll, a creature So strange in quality, a whole city takes Note of her name and person all that affection I owe to thee, on her in counterfeit passion I spend, to mad my father he believes P VOL IV

I doat upon this Roaring Girl, and grieves As it becomes a father for a son That could be so bewitch'd yet I'll go on This crooked way, sigh still for her, feigh dreams In which I'll talk only of her these streams IIO Shall, I hope, force my father to consent That here I anchor, rather than be rent Upon a rock so dangerous Art thou pleas'd, Because thou seest we're waylaid, that I take A path that's safe, though it be far about? Mary My prayers with heaven guide thee! Seb Then I will on My father is at hand, kiss, and begone! Hours shall be watch'd for meetings I must now, As men for fear, to a strange idol bow

Mary Farewell!

Seb I'll guide thee forth when next we meet, 120 A story of Moll shall make our mirth more sweet

Exeunt

Enter Sir Alexander Wengrave, Sir Davy Dapper, SIT ADAM APPLETON, GOSHAWK, LAXTON, and Gentlemen

- All Thanks, good sir Alexander, for our bounteous cheer !
- S Alex Fie, fie, in giving thanks you pay too dear
- S Davy When bounty spreads the table, faith, 'twere

At going off if thanks should not step in

S Alex No more of thanks, no more Ay, marry, sir

Th' inner room was too close how do you like This parlour, gentlemen?

All O, passing well!

S Adam What a sweet breath the air casts here, so cool!

Gos I like the prospect best

Lax See how 'tis furnish'd!

130

S Davy A very fair sweet room

S Alex Sir Davy Dapper,

The furniture that doth adorn this room Cost many a fair grey groat ere it came here, But good things are most cheap when they're most dear Nay, when you look into my galleries, How bravely they're trimm'd up, you all shall swear You're highly pleas'd to see what's set down there Stories of men and women, mix'd together Fair ones with foul, like sunshine in wet weather, Within one square a thousand heads are laid, 140 So close that all of heads the room seems made. As many faces there, fill'd with blithe looks, Shew like the promising titles of new books Writ merrily, the readers being their own eyes, Which seem to move and to give plaudities, And here and there, whilst with obsequious ears Throng'd heaps do listen, a cut purse thrusts and leers With hawk's eyes for his prey, I need not shew him, By a hanging, villanous look yourselves may know him, The face is drawn so rarely then, sir, below I 50 The very floor, as 'twere, waves to and fro, And, like a floating island, seems to move Upon a sea bound in with shores above

All These sights are excellent !

S Alex I'll shew you all

Since we are met, make our parting comical

Reenter Sebastian Wengrave with Greenwit

Seb This gentleman, my friend, will take his leave, sir

S Alex Ha! take his leave, Sebastian, who?

Seb This gentleman

S Alex Your love, sir, has already given me some time,

And if you please to trust my age with more, It shall pay double interest good sir, stay

160

Green I have been too bold

S Alex Not so, sir a merry day

'Mongst friends being spent, is better than gold sav'd — Some wine, some wine! Where be these knaves I keep?

Re enter NEATFOOT with several Servants

Neat At your worshipful elbow, sir

S Alex You're kissing my maids, drinking, or fast asleep

Neat Your worship has given it us right

S Alex You varlets, stir!

Chairs, stools, and cushions!—

[Servants bring in wine, and place chairs, &c

Prithee, sir Davy Dapper,

Make that chair thine

S Davy 'Tis but an easy gift,

And yet I thank you for it, sir I'll take it

S Alex A chair for old sir Adam Appleton !

Neat A back friend to your worship

S Adam Marry, good Neatfoot,

I thank thee for't, back friends sometimes are good

S Alex Pray, make that stool your perch, good master Goshawk

Gos I stoop to your luie, sir

S Alex Son Sebastian,

Take master Greenwit to you

Seb Sit, dear friend

S Alex Nay, master Laxton—furnish master Laxton With what he wants, a stone,—a stool, I would say, A stool

Lax I had rather stand, sir

S Alex I know you had, good master Laxton so, So [Exeunt Neatfoot and Servants

Now here's a mess of friends, and, gentlemen,
Because time's glass shall not be running long,
I'll quicken it with a pretty tale

S Davy Good tales do well
In these bad days, where vice does so excel

S Adam Begin, Sir Alexander

S Aler Last day I met

An aged man, upon whose head was scor'd

A debt of just so many years as these

Which I owe to my grave the man you all know

190

All His name, I pray you, sir

S Alex Nay, you shall pardon me
But when he saw me, with a sigh that brake,
Or seem'd to break, his heart strings, thus he spake
O my good knight, says he (and then his eyes
Were richer even by that which made them poor,
They'd spent so many tears they had no more),
O sir, says he, you know it! for you ha' seen
Blessings to rain upon mine house and me
Fortune, who slaves men, was my slave, her wheel
Hath spun me golden threads, for, I thank heaven,
I ne'er had but one cause to curse my stars
I ask'd him then what that one cause might be

All So, sir

S Alex He paus'd and as we often see A sea so much becalm'd, there can be found No wrinkle on his brow, his waves being drown'd In their own rage, but when th' imperious wind[s] Use strange invisible tyranny to shake Both heaven's and earth's foundation at their noise, The seas, swelling with wrath to part that fray, Rise up, and are more wild, more mad than they Even so this good old man was by my question Stirr'd up to roughness, you might see his gall Flow even in's eyes, then grew he fantastical

S Davy Fantastical? ha, ha!

S Alex Yes, and talk ['d] oddly

S Adam Pray, sir, proceed How did this old man end?

S Alex Marry, sir, thus

210

He left his wild fit to read o'er his cards, Yet then, though age cast snow on all his hairs, He joy'd, because, says he, the god of gold Has been to me no niggard, that disease, Of which all old men sicken, avarice, Never infected me——

219

Lax He means not himself, I'm sure

Aszde

S Alex For, like a lamp
Fed with continual oil, I spend and throw
My light to all that need it, yet have still Enough to serve myself O but, quoth he,
Though heaven's dew fall thus on this aged tree,
I have a son that, I like a wedge, doth cleave
My very heart root!

S Davy Had he such a son?

Seb Now I do smell a fox strongly

[Aszde

S Alex Let's see no, master Greenwit is not yet So mellow in years as he, but as like Sebastian, Just like my son Sebastian, such another

Seb How finely, like a fencer,
My father fetches his by-blows to hit me!
But if I beat you not at your own weapon
Of subtilty——

Aside

S Alex This son, saith he, that should be The column and main arch unto my house, The crutch unto my age, becomes a whirlwind Shaking the firm foundation

S Adam 'Tis some prodigal

Seb Well shot, old Adam Bell!1

Aside

S Alex No city-monster neither, no prodigal, 240 But sparing, wary, civil, and, though wifeless, An excellent husband, and such a traveller, He has more tongues in his head than some have teeth

S Davy I have but two in mine

Gos So sparing and so wary?

What, then, could vex his father so?

S Alex O, a woman!

Seb A flesh-fly, that can vex any man

S Alex A scurvy woman,

On whom the passionate old man swore he doated, A creature, saith he, nature hath brought forth
To mock the sex of woman It is a thing
One knows not how to name her birth began 250
Ere she was all made 'tis woman more than man,
Man more than woman, and, which to none can hap,
The sun gives her two shadows to one shape,
Nay, more, let this strange thing walk, stand, or sit,
No blazing star draws more eyes after it

S Davy A monster! 'tis some monster!

S Alex She's a varlet

Seb Now is my cue to bristle

[Asıde

S Alex A naughty pack 2

¹ The famous outlaw, celebrated in the ballad of Adam Bel, Clym of the Cloughe and Wyllyam of Cloudesle

² The expression "naughty pack" is hardly obsolete as applied (like "baggage) to women Formerly it was a term of reproach for persons of both sexes See Nares' Glossary

Seb 'Tis false!

S Alex Ha, boy?

Seb 'Tis false!

260

S Alex What's false? I say she's naught

Seb I say, that tongue

That dares speak so, but yours, sticks in the throat Of a rank villain set yourself aside——

S Alex So, sir, what then?

Seb Any here else had lied -

I think I shall fit you

S Alex Lie?

Seh Ves

S Davy Doth this concern him?

S Alea Ah, sirrah-boy,

Is your blood heated? boils it? are you stung? I'll pierce you deeper yet—O my dear friends, I am that wretched father! this that son,

That sees his ruin, yet headlong on doth run

S Adam Will you love such a poison?

S Davy Fie, fie

Seb You're all mad

S Alex Thou'rt sick at heart, yet feel'st it not of all these.

What gentleman but thou, knowing his disease Mortal, would shun the cure —O master Greenwit, Would you to such an idol bow?

Green Not I, sir

S Alex Here's master Laxton, has he mind to a

As thou hast?

Lax No, not I, sir

S Alex Sir, I know it

Lax Their good parts are so rare, their bad so common,

I will have nought to do with any woman

S Davy 'Tis well done, master Laxton

S Alex O thou cruel boy,

280

Thou would'st with lust an old man's life destroy!

Because thou see'st I'm half way in my grave,

Thou shovel'st dust upon me would thou might'st have

Thy wish, most wicked, most unnatural !

S Davy Why, sir, 'tis thought sir Guy Fitzallard's daughter

Shall wed your son Sebastian

S Alex Sir Davy Dapper,

I have upon my knees woo'd this fond 1 boy

To take that virtuous maiden

Seb Hark you, a word, sir

You on your knees have curs'd that virtuous maiden,

And me for loving her, yet do you now

Thus baffle 2 me to my face wear not your knees

In such entreats, give me Fitzallard's daughter

S Alex I'll give thee rats-bane rather

Seb Well, then, you know

What dish I mean to feed upon

² Mock insult "Baffle was originally a punishment of infamy, inflicted on recreant knights, one part of which was hanging them up by the heels In French baffouer or baffoler"—Nares

S Alex Hark, gentlemen he swears To have this cut purse drab, to spite my gall

All Master Sebastian-

Seb I am deaf to you all

I'm so bewitch'd, so bound to my desires,

Tears, prayers, threats, nothing can quench out those fires

That burn within me

Exit

S Alex Her blood shall quench it, then — [Aside Lose him not, O dissuade him, gentlemen! 301

S Davy He shall be wean'd, I warrant you

S Alex Before his eyes

Lay down his shame, my grief, his miseries

All No more, no more, away!

had such a leader! For fetching, no water-spaniel is like me

S Alex This wench we speak of strays so from her kind,

Nature repents she made her 'tis a mermaid 340 Has tol'd my son to shipwreck

Trap I'll cut her comb for you

S Alex I'll tell out gold for thee, then Hunt her forth,

Cast out a line hung full of silver hooks
To catch her to thy company deep spendings

May draw her that's most chaste to a man's bosom

Trap The gingling of golden bells, and a good fool with a hobbyhorse, will draw all the whores i' th' town to dance in a morris

S Alex Or rather, for that's best (they say sometimes She goes in breeches), follow her as her man 351

Trap And when her breeches are off, she shall follow me

S Alex Beat all thy bran s to serve her

Trap Zounds, sir, as country wenches beat cream till butter comes

S Alex Play thou the subtle spider, weave fine nets To ensnare her very life

Trap Her life?

S Alex Yes, suck

Her heart blood, if thou canst twist thou but cords To catch her, I'll find law to hang her up

Trap Spoke like a worshipful bencher! 360

S Alex Trace all her steps at this she fox's den

Watch what lambs enter, let me play the shepherd To save their throats from bleeding, and cut hers

Trap This is the goll 1 shall do't

S Alex Be firm, and gain me

Ever thine own this done, I entertain thee

How is thy name?

Trap My name, sir, is Ralph Trapdoor, honest Ralph S Alex Trapdoor, be like thy name, a dangerous step

For her to venture on, but unto me—

Trap As fast as your sole to your boot or shoe, sir 370 S Alex Hence, then, be little seen here as thou canst,

I'll still be at thine elbow

Trap The trapdoor's set

Moll, if you budge, you're gone this me shall crown,

SCENE I

Three Shops open in a rank the first an Apothecary's Shop, the next a Feather shop, the third a Sempster's Shop, Mistress Gallipot in the first, Mistress Tiltyard in the next, Openwork and Mistress Openwork in the third

Enter LAXTON, GOSHAWK, and GREENWIT

Mis Open Gentlemen, what is't you lack? what is't you buy? see fine bands and ruffs, fine lawns, fine cambrics what is't you lack, gentlemen? what is't you buy?

Lax Yonder's the shop

Gos Is that she?

Lax Ay, she's a gentlewoman born, I can tell you, though it be her hard fortune now to shred Indian pot herbs

Gos O sir, 'tis many a good woman's fortune, when her husband turns bankrout, 1 to begin with pipes and set up again

Lax And, indeed, the raising of the woman is the lifting up of the man's head at all times, if one flourish, t'other will bud as fast, I warrant ye

Gos Come, thou'rt familiarly acquainted there, I grope that

Lax And you grope no better i' th' dark, you may chance he i' th' ditch when you're drunk

Gos Go, thou'rt a mystical lecher!

Lax I will not deny but my credit may take up an ounce of pure smoke

Gos May take up an ell of pure smock! away, go! Tis the closest striker! life, I think he commits venery forty foot deep, no man's aware on't. I, like a palpable smockster, go to work so openly with the tricks of art, that I'm as apparently seen as a naked boy in a phial, and were it not for a gift of treachery that I have in me, to betray my friend when he puts most trust in me—mass, yonder he is too!—and by his injury to make good my access to her, I should appear as defective in courting as a farmer's son the first day of his feather, that doth nothing at court but woo the, hangings and glass windows

Green Troth, this is finely shred

Lax O, women are the best mincers

Mis G 'Thad been a good phrase for a cook's wife, sir

Lax But 'twill serve generally, like the front of a new almanac, as thus —calculated for the meridian of cooks' wives, but generally for all English women

Mis G Nay, you shall ha't, sir, I have filled it for you

[She puts it to the fire

Lax The pipe's in a good hand, and I wish mine always so 52

Green But not to be used a' that fashion

Lax O, pardon me, sir, I understand no French I pray, be covered Jack, a pipe of rich smoke!

Gos Rich smoke? that's suspence a pipe, is't?

Green To me, sweet lady

Mis G Be not forgetful, respect my credit, seem strange art and wit makes a fool of suspicion, pray, be wary 60

Lax Push! I warrant you —Come, how is't, gallants?

Green Pure and excellent

Gos But above all, religious, he preyeth daily upon elder brothers

Green And valuant above measure, has run three streets from a sergeant

Lax Puh, puh

He blows tobacco in their faces

Green O, puh!

Gos Ho, ho!

Lax So, so

80

Mis G What's the matter now, sir?

Lax I protest I'm in extreme want of money, if you can supply me now with any means, you do me the greatest pleasure, next to the bounty of your love, as ever poor gentleman tasted

Mis G What's the sum would pleasure ye, sir? though you deserve nothing less at my hands

Lax Why, 'tis but for want of opportunity, thou knowest—I put her off with opportunity still by this light, I hate her, but for means to keep me in fashion with gallants, for what I take from her, I spend upon other wenches, bear her in hand 1 still she has wit enough to rob her husband, and I ways enough to

Moll Why, sir, I say so still

Tai Your breeches, then, will take up a yard more

Moll Well, pray, look it be put in then

Taz It shall stand round and full, I warrant you

Moll Pray, make 'em easy enough

 $\it Tax$ I know my fault now, t'other was somewhat suff between the legs, I'll make these open enough, I warrant you

S Alex Here's good gear towards 12 I have brought up my son to marry a Dutch slop and a French doublet, a codpiece daughter! [Aside

Taz So, I have gone as far as I can go

Moll Why, then, farewell

His spring time must needs err, his watch ne'er goes right

That sets his dial by a rusty clock

S Alex [coming forward] So, and which is that rusty clock, sir, you?

Seb The clock at Ludgate, sir, it ne'er goes true S Alex But thou go'st falser, not thy father's cares Can keep thee right when that insensible work Obeys the workman's art, lets off the hour, And stops again when time is satisfied But thou runn'st on, and judgment, thy main wheel, Beats by all stops, as if the work would break, 120 Begun with long pains for a minute's ruin Much like a suffering man brought up with care, At last bequeath'd to shame and a short prayer

Seb I taste you bitterer than I can deserve, sir S Alex What has bewitch['d] thee, son? what devil or drug

Hath wrought upon the weakness of thy blood,
And betray'd all her hopes to ruinous folly?
O, wake from drowsy and enchanted shame,
Wherein thy soul sits, with a golden dream
Flatter'd and poison'd! I am old, my son,
O, let me prevail quickly!
For I have weightier business of mine own
Than to chide thee I must not to my grave
As a drunkard to his bed, whereon he lies
Only to sleep, and never cares to rise
Let me despatch in time, come no more near her

Seb Not honestly? not in the way of marriage?

S Alex What sayst thou? marriage? in what place? the Sessions house?

And who shall give the bride, prithee? an indictment?

Seb Sir, now ye take part with the world to wrong her

S Alex Why, wouldst thou fain marry to be pointed at?

Alas, the number's great! do not o'erburden't. Why, as good marry a beacon on a hill, Which all the country fix their eyes upon, As her thy folly doats on If thou long'st To have the story of thy infamous fortunes Serve for discourse in ordinaries and taverns, Thou'rt in the way, or to confound thy name, Keep on, thou canst not miss it, or to strike Thy wretched father to untimely coldness, Keep the left hand still, it will bring thee to't Yet, if no tears wrung from thy father's eyes, Nor sighs that fly in sparkles from his sorrows, Had power to alter what is wilful in thee, Methinks her very name should fright thee from her And never trouble me

Seb Why, is the name of Moll so fatal, sir?

S Alex Many one, sir, where suspect is enter'd,

For, seek all London from one end to t'other,
More whores of that name than of any ten other

Seb What's that to her? let those blush for themselves

Can any guilt in others condemn her?

I've vow'd to love her let all storms oppose me

That ever beat against the breast of man, Nothing but death's black tempest shall divide us S Alex O, folly that can doat on nought but shame! Seb Put case, a wanton itch runs through one name More than another, is that name the worse, Where honesty sits possest in't? it should rather Appear more excellent, and deserve more praise, 170 When through foul mists a brightness it can raise Why, there are of the devils honest gentlemen And well descended, keep an open house, And some a' th' good man's 1 that are arrant knaves He hates unworthily that by rote contemns, For the name neither saves nor yet condemns, And for her honesty, I've made such proof on't In several forms, so nearly watch'd her ways, I will maintain that strict against an army, Excepting you, my father Here's her worst, 180 Sh'as a bold spirit that mingles with mankind, But nothing else comes near it and oftentimes Through her apparel somewhat shames her birth, But she is loose in nothing but in mirth Would all Molls were no worse!

S Alex This way I toil in vain, and give but aim To infamy and ruin he will fall,
My blessing cannot stay him all my joys
Stand at the brink of a devouring flood,

^{1 &#}x27;This seems to be an allusion to the proverbial saying God's a good man see Much ado about Nothing act in sc 5, Malone's Shakespeare (by Boswell), vol vii p 104, and Steevens's note —*Dyce*2 For the expression "give aim," see note 1, vol in p 258

And will be wilfully swallow'd, wilfully But why so vain let all these tears be lost? I'll pursue her to shame, and so all's crost

Aside, and exit

Seb He's gone with some strange purpose, whose effect

Will hurt me little if he shoot so wide,
To think I love so blindly I but feed
His heart to this match, to draw on the other,
Wherein my joy sits with a full wish crown'd,
Only his mood excepted, which must change
By opposite policies, courses indirect,
Plain dealing in this world takes no effect
This mad girl I'll acquaint with my intent,

200

Get her assistance, make my fortunes known 'Twixt lovers' hearts she's a fit instrument,
And has the art to help them to their own
By her advice, for in that craft she's wise,
My love and I may meet, spite of all spies

Gray's Inn Fields

Enter LAXTON and Coachman

Lax Coachman Coach Here, sir

Lax There's a tester ¹ more, prithee drive thy coach to the hither end of Marybone-park, a fit place for Moll to get in

Coach Marybone-park, sir?

Lax Ay, it's in our way, thou knowest

Coach It shall be done, sir

Lax Coachman

Coach Anon, sir

Lax Are we fitted with good phiampel 2 jades?

Coach The best in Smithfield,3 I warrant you, sir

Lax May we safely take the upper hand of any coached velvet cap, or tuftaffety jacket? for they keep a vild 1 swaggering in coaches now a days, the highways are stopt with them

Coach My life for yours, and baffle 2 'em too, sir why, they are the same jades, believe it, sir, that have drawn all your famous whores to Ware

Lax Nay, then they know their business, they need no more instructions

Coach They're so used to such journeys, sir, I never use whip to 'em, for if they catch but the scent of a wench once, they run like devils

Exit Coachman with his whip

Lax Fine Cerberus! that rogue will have the start of a thousand ones, for whilst others trot a' foot, he'll ride prancing to hell upon a coach horse. Stay, 'tis now about the hour of her appointment, but yet I see her not [The clock strikes three] Hark! what's this? one, two, three three by the clock at Savoy, this is the hour, and Gray's Inn Fields the place, she swore she'd meet me Ha! yonder's two Inns-a' court men with one wench, but that's not she, they walk toward Islington out of my way. I see none yet drest like her, I must look for a shag ruff, a frieze jerken, a short sword, and a safe guard, or I get none. Why, Moll, prithee, make haste, or the coachman will curse us anon.

Moll O, here's my gentleman! If they would keep their days as well with their mercers as their hours with their harlots, no bankrout! would give seven score pound for a sergeant's place, for would you know a catchpoll rightly derived, the corruption of a citizen is the generation of a sergeant. How his eye hawks for venery!

[Aside]—Come, are you ready, sir?

Lax Ready? for what, sir?

Moll Do you ask that now, sir?

Why was this meeting 'pointed?

Lax I thought you mistook me, sir you seem to be some young barrister,

I have no suit in law, all my land's sold,

I praise heaven for't, 't has rid me of much trouble 50

Moll Then I must wake you, sir, where stands the coach?

Lax Who's this? Moll, honest Moll?

Moll So young, and purblind?

You're an old wanton in your eyes, I see that

Lax Thou'rt admirably suited for the Three Pigeons² at Brainford I'll swear I knew thee not

Moll I'll swear you did not, but you shall know me

Lax No, not here, we shall be spied, i'faith, the coach is better come 59

Lax How!

Moll There's the gold

With which you hir'd your hackney, here's her pace. She racks hard, and perhaps your bones will feel it Ten angels of mine own I've put to thine, Win 'em and wear 'em

Lax Hold, Moll mistress Mary——

Moll Draw, or I'll serve an execution on thee, Shall lay thee up till doomsday

70

Lax Draw upon a woman! why, what dost mean. Moll?

Moll To teach thy base thoughts manners thou'rt one of those

That thinks each woman thy fond flexible whore, If she but cast a liberal eye upon thee, Turn back her head, she's thine, or amongst company By chance drink first to thee, then she's quite gone, There is no means to help her nay, for a need, Wilt swear unto thy credulous fellow lechers, 80 That thou art more in favour with a lady At first sight than her monkey all her lifetime How many of our sex, by such as thou, Have their good thoughts paid with a blasted name

Untruss a point = until the tags of the breeches

That never deserv'd loosely, or did trip In path of whoredom beyond cup and lip! But for the stain of conscience and of soul. - S Adam No way to tame him like it, there he shall learn

What money is indeed, and how to spend it

- S Davy He's bridled there
- S Alex Ay, yet knows not how to mend it
 Bedlam cures not more madmen in a year
 Than one of the Counters does, men pay more dear
 There for their wit than anywhere a Counter!
 Why, 'tis an university,' who not sees?
 As scholars there, so here men take degrees,
 And follow the same studies all alike
 Scholars learn first logic and rhetoric,
 So does a prisoner with fine honey'd speech
 At's first coming in he doth persuade, beseech
 He may be lodg'd with one that is not itchy,
 To lie in a clean chamber, in sheets not lousy,
 But when he has no money, then does he try,
 By subtle logic and quaint sophistry,
 To make the keepers trust him

Seb Why, well said, Moll, i'faith, it had been a shame for that gentleman then that would have let it hung still, and ne'er offered thee it

Moll There it should have been still then for Moll, For though the world judge impudently of me, I never came into that chamber yet Where I took down the instrument myself

Seb Pish, let'em prate abroad, thou'rt here where thou art known and loved, there be a thousand close dames that will call the viol an unmannerly instrument for a woman, and therefore talk broadly of thee, when you shall have them sit wider to a worse quality

A Street

Enter Jack Dapper, Moll, Sir Beauteous Ganymede, and Sir Thomas Long

J Dap But, prithee, master captain Jack, be plain and perspicuous with me, was it your Meg¹ of West minster's courage that rescued me from the Poultry puttocks ² indeed ⁷

Moll The valour of my wit, I ensure you, sir, fetched you off bravely, when you were i' the forlorn hope among those desperates Sir Beauteous Ganymede heie, and sir Thomas Long, heard that cuckoo, my man Trapdoor, sing the note of your ransom from captivity

S Beau Uds so, Moll, where's that Trapdoor? 10 Moll Hanged, I think, by this time a justice in this

A virago whose exploits are celebrated in a blacilletter tract entitled The life and pranks of long Mig of Westminster 1,582 (re issued in 1635). She was the heroine of a lost play acted in 1594-5. See Henslowe's Diarry p 49. From Field's Amends for Ladies we learn that a play of Long Meg was acted at the Fortune (circ 1618). She is introduced in the anti-masque of Ben Jonson's Fortunate Isles.

Some wrongs I've done thee

Trap Is the wind there now?

'Tis time for me to kneel and confess first,

For fear it come too late, and my brains feel it [Aside Upon my paws I ask you pardon, mistress!

Moll Pardon! for what, sir? what has your rogueship done now?

Trap I've been from time to time hired to confound you

By this old gentleman

Moll How?

Trap Pray, forgive him

But may I counsel you, you should never do't

Many a snare t' entrap your worship's life

Have I laid privily, chains, watches, jewels, And when he saw nothing could mount you up,

Four hollow hearted angels he then gave you,

By which he meant to trap you, I to save you

S Alex To all which shame and grief in me cry guilty

Forgive me now I cast the world's eyes from me,

And look upon thee freely with mine own,

I see the most of many wrongs before me,¹

Cast from the jaws of Envy and her people,

And nothing foul but that I'll never more

Condemn by common voice, for that's the whore

That deceives man's opinion, mocks his trust,

Cozens his love, and makes his heart unjust

Moll Here be the angels, gentlemen, they were given me

As a musician I pursue no pity, Follow the law, and you can cuck 2 me, spare not, Hang up my viol by me, and I care not,

S Alex So far I'm sorry, I'll thrice double 'em,
To make thy wrongs amends
Come, worthy friends, my honourable lord,
Sir Beauteous Ganymede, and noble Fitzallard,
And you kind gentlewomen, whose sparkling presence
Are glories set in marriage, beams of society,
For all your loves give lustre to my joys
The happiness of this day shall be remember'd
At the return of every smiling spring,
In my time now 'tis born; and may no sadness
Sit on the brows of men upon that day,
But as I am, so all go pleas'd away!

EPILOGUE

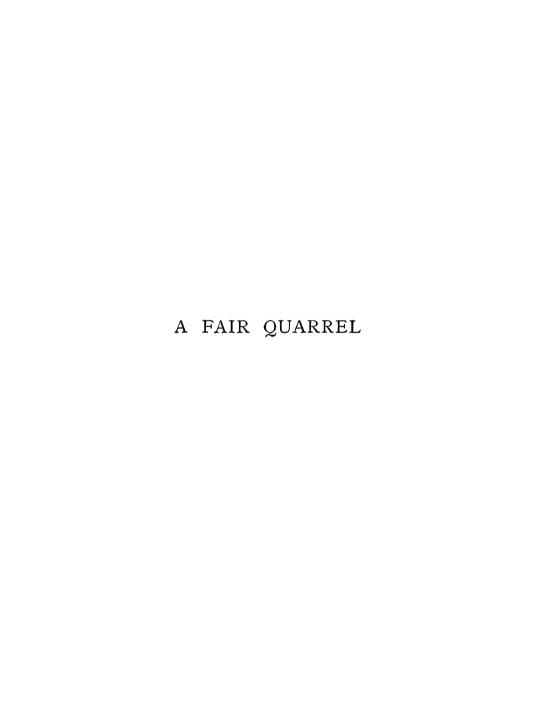

A painter having drawn with curious art
The picture of a woman, every part
Limn'd to the life, hung out the piece to sell
People who pass'd along, viewing it well,
Gave several verdicts on it some disprais'd
The hair, some said the brows too high were rais'd,
Some hit her o'er the lips, mislik'd their colour,
Some wish'd her nose were shorter, some, the eyes fuller,

Others said roses on her cheeks should grow,
Swearing they look'd too pale, others cried no
The workman still, as fault was found, did mend it,
In hope to please all but this work being ended,
And hung open at stall, it was so vile,
So monstrous, and so ugly, all men did smile
At the poor painter's folly Such, we doubt,
Is this our comedy some perhaps do flout
The plot, saying, 'tis too thin, too weak, too mean,
Some for the person will revile the scene,
And wonder that a creature of her being
Should be the subject of a poet, seeing
In the world's eye none weighs so light others look

For all those base tricks, publish'd in a book 1 Foul as his brains they flow'd from, of cutpurse[s], Of nips and foists, nasty, obscene discourses, As full of lies as empty of worth or wit. For any honest ear or eye unfit And thus. If we to every brain that's humorous Should fashion scenes, we, with the painter, shall, In striving to please all, please none at all 30 Yet for such faults as either the writer's wit Or negligence of the actors do commit. Both crave your pardons if what both have done Cannot full pay your expectation, The Roaring Girl herself, some few days hence. Shall on this stage give larger recompence Which mirth that you may share in, herself does woo you,

And craves this sign, your hands to beckon her to you

ONE OF THE GROOMS OF HIS HIGHNESS' BED CHAMBER,

WORTHY SIR,

'Tis but a play, and a play is but a butt, against which many shoot many arrows of envy, 'tis the weaker part, and how much more noble shall it be in you to defend it yet if it be (as some philosophers have left behind 'em), that this megacosm, this great world, is no more than a stage, where every one must act his part. vou shall of necessity have many partakers, some long, some short, some indifferent, all some, whilst indeed the players themselves have the least part of it, for I know few that have lands (which are a part of the world), and therefore no grounded men, but howsoever they serve for mutes, happily they must wear good clothes for attendance, yet all have exits, and must all be stript in the tiring-house (viz the grave), for none must carry any thing out of the stock You see, sir, I write as I speak, and I speak as I am, and that's excuse enough for me I did not mean to write an epistle of praise to you, it looks so like a thing I know you love not, flattery, which you exceedingly hate actively, and unpleasingly accept passively indeed, I meant to tell you your own, that is, that this child of the Muses is yours, whoever begat it, 'tis laid to your charge, and, for aught I know, you must father and keep it too if it please you, I hope you shall not be ashamed of it neither, for it has been seen, though I say it, in good companies, and many have said it is a handsome, pretty spoken infant. Now be your own judge, at your leisure look on it, at your pleasure laugh at it, and if you be sorry it is no better, you may be glad it is no bigger.

Yours ever,

WILLIAM ROWLEY

A FAIR QUARREL

ACT J

A Court before Russell's House

Enter Russell

Rus It must be all my care, there's all my love, And that pulls on the other ¹ Had I been left In a son behind me, while I had been here He should have shifted as I did before him, Liv'd on the freeborn portion of his wit, But a daughter, and that an only one,—O, We cannot be too careful o' her, too tender! 'Tis such

A brittle niceness, a mere cupboard of glasses,
The least shake breaks or cracks 'em All my aim is to
To cast her upon riches, that's the thing
We rich men call perfection, for the world
Can perfect nought without it 'tis not neatness,

Either in handsome wit or handsome outside, With which one gentleman, far in debt, has courted her.

Which boldness he shall rue He thinks me blind And ignorant I've let him play a long time, Seem'd to believe his worth, which I know nothing He may perhaps laugh at my easy confidence, Which closely I requite upon his fondness, 20 For this hour snaps him, and before his mistress, His saint, forsooth, which he inscribes my girl, He shall be rudely taken and disgrac'd The trick will prove an everlasting scarecrow To fright poor gallants from our rich men's daughters

Enter LADY AGER and two Servants

Sister! I've such a joy to make you a welcome of, Better you never tasted

Lady Ager Good, sir, spare it not

Rus Colonel's come, and your son captain Ager

Lady Ager My son? Weeps

Rus I know your eye would be first serv'd.

That's the soul's taster still for grief or joy

Lady Ager O, if a mother's dear suit may prevail with hım.

From England he shall never part again !

Rus No question he'll be rul'd, and grant you that Lady Ager I'll bring all my desires to that request

Exit with Servants

Rus Affectionate sister! she has no daughter now,

Aside

40

It follows all the love must come to him, And he has a worth deserves it, were it dearer

Enter Friend of the Colonel and Friend of Captain Ager

Col's Fr I must not give way to't

Rus What's here to question?

Col's Fr Compare young captain Ager with the Colonel!

Cap's Fr Young? why, do you Make youth stand for an imputation?

That which you now produce for his disgrace

Infers his nobleness, that, being young, Should have an anger more inclin'd to courage

And moderation than the Colonel

A virtue as rare as chastity in youth,

And let the cause be good—conscience in him,

Which ever crowns his acts, and is indeed

Valour's prosperity-he dares then as much

As ever made him famous that you plead for

Col's Fr Then I forbear too long

Cap's Fr His worth for me!

They fight

50

Rus Here's noble youths ' belike some wench has cross'd 'em,

And now they know not what to do with their blood

[Aside

Enter the Colonel and CAPTAIN AGER

Col How now?

Cap Ager Hold, hold ! what's the incitement?

70

Col So serious at your game! come come, the quarrel?

Col's Fr Nothing, good faith, sir

Col Nothing? and you bleed?

Col's Fr Bleed! where? pish, a little scratch by chance, sir

Col What need this niceness, when you know so well

That I must know these things, and truly know 'em?
Your daintiness makes me but more impatient, 60

This strange concealment frets me

Col's Fr Words did pass

Which I was bound to answer, as my opinion

And love instructed me,

And should I take in general fame into 'em,

I think I should commit no error in't

Col What words, sir, and of whom?

Col's Fr This gentleman

Parallel'd captain Ager's worth with yours

Col With mine?

Col's Fr It was a thing I could not listen to With any patience

Cap Ager What should all you, sir?

There was little wrong done to your friend i' that

Col How? little wrong to me?

Cap Ager I said so, friend,

And I suppose that you'll esteem it so

¹ Scrupulousness

Cap Ager Why, sir, 'twixt friend and friend There is so even and level a degree, It will admit of no superlative Col Not in terms of manhood? Rus [coming forward] Nay, gentlemen— Col Good sir, give me leave—in terms of manhood, What can you dispute more questionable? You're a captain, sir, I give you all your due 80 Cap Ager And you are a colonel, a title Which may include within it many captains Yet, sir, but throwing by those titular shadows, Which add no substance to the men themselves. And take them uncompounded, man and man, They may be so with fair equality Col You're a boy, sir! Cap Ager And you have a beard, sir Virginity and marriage are both worthy, And the positive purity there are some Have made the nobler Col How now? Rus Nay, good sir-Cap Ager I shrink not, he that goes the foremost may

Be overtaken

Col Death, how am I weigh'd!

Cap Ager In an even balance, sir, a beard put in Gives but a small advantage man and man, And lift the scales

Col Patience shall be my curse,

If it ride me further! [They draw their swords

Rus How now, gallants?

Believe me then, I must give aim i no longer Can words beget swords, and bring 'em forth, ha? Come, they're abortive propagations, Hide 'em, for shame! I had thought soldiers too Had been musical, would not strike out of time, But to the consort 2 of drum, trumps, and fife 'Tis madman like to dance without music. And most unpleasing shows to the beholders, A Lydian ditty to a Doile note Friends embrace with steel hands! fie, it meets too hard ! I must have those encounters here debarr'd Col Shall I lose here what I have safe brought home Through many dangers? Cap Ager What's that, sir? Col My fame, Life of the life, my reputation 110 Death! I am squar'd and measur'd out, My heights, depths, breadth, all my dimensions taken 1 Sure I have yet beyond your astrolabe A spirit unbounded

Rus Tush!

Cap Ager Sir, you might weigh-

All this is weighing fire, vain and fruitless. The further it runs into argument,

I have a little claim, sir, in your blood,

The further plung'd, beseech you, no more on't

² Concert

As near as the biother to your mother,

If that may serve for power to move your quiet,

The rest I shall make up with courtesy

And an uncle's love

Cap Ager I have done, sir, but——
Rus But? I'll have no more shooting at these butts
Col We'll to pricks¹ when he please
Rus You rove all still
Sir, I have no motive proof to disgest²
Your raised choler back into temperate blood,
But if you'll make mine age a counsellor,—
As all ages have hitherto allow'd it,
Wisdom in men grows up as years increase,—
You shall make me blessed in making peace,

And do your judgment right

Col In peace at home
Grey hairs are senators, but to determine
Soldiers and their actions——

Enter FITZALLEN and JANE

Rus 'Tis peace here, sir

And see, here comes a happy interim,
Here enters now a scene of loving arms,
This couple will not quarrel so
Col's Fr Be advis'd, sir,
This gentleman, Fitzallen, is your kinsman,
You may o'erthrow his long labour'd fortunes

The prick was the point in the centre of the butts To rove was to shoot an arrow at an elevation, not point blank. The old form of digest

With one angry minute, 'tis a rich churl, And this his sole inheritrix, blast not His hopes with this tempest

Fitz I hope so, sir

Rus Hope? nay, 'tis past all hope, son Here has been such a stormy encounter 'twixt' My cousin' captain and this brave Colonel, About I know not what—nothing indeed—Competitions, degrees, and comparatives Of soldiership, but this smooth passage of love Has calm'd it all—Come, I will have it sound, Let me see your hearts combined in your hands,

² In October 1595 the Lord Mayor wrote to the Lords in Council to protest against the high handed way in which the saltpetre men executed their commission. On 15th March 1616-17 the Eril of Worcester obtained a patent to make all saltpetre and gunpowder for the space of thirty one years, and appears to have been very vigorous in exercising his monopoly. Before the discovery and importation of Indian nitre saltpetre was manufactured from earth impregnated with animal matter and being the chief ingredient of gunpowder, was claimed by the Government and in mos cases became a State Monopoly. Patents for maling saltpetre were expressive empted in 1624 from the Statute against Monopoles (21 Jac I c 3, s 10) and the saltpetre man was empowered to break open all premises and to dig up the floors of stables and even dwelling houses "—Rememorancea p 114, n 2

ACT II

Enter CAPTAIN AGER

Cap Ager The son of a whore? There is not such another murdering piece 1 In all the stock of calumny, it kills At one report two reputations, A mother's and a son's If it were possible That souls could fight after the bodies fell, This was a quarrel for 'em, he should be one, indeed, That never heard of heaven's joys or hell's torments, To fight this out I am too full of conscience, Knowledge, and patience, to give justice to't, 10 So careful of my eternity, which consists Of upright actions, that unless I knew It were a truth I stood for, any coward Might make my breast his foot pace and who lives That can assure the truth of his conception,

 $^{^{1}}$ The name of a small piece of artillery —See Dyce's Shakespeare Glossary, s $\,v\,$

More than a mother's carriage makes it hopeful?

And is't not miserable valour then,

That man should hazaid all upon things doubtful?

O, there's the cruelty of my foe's advantage!

Could but my soul resolve my cause were just,

Earth's mountain nor sea's surge should hide him from me!

E'en to hell's threshold would I follow him,
And see the slanderer in before I left him!
But as it is, it fears me, and I never Appear'd too conscionably just till now
My good opinion of her life and virtues
Bids me go on, and fain would I be rul'd by't,
But when my judgment tells me she's but woman,
Whose fiailty let in death to all mankind,
My valour shrinks at that Certain, she's good,
There only wants but my assurance in't,
And all things then were perfect how I thirst for't!
Here comes the only she that could resolve —
But 'tis too vild a question to demand indeed

Enter LADY AGER

Lady Ager Son, I've a suit to you

Cap Ager That may do well — [Aside
To me, good madam? you're most sure to speed in't, Be't i' my power to grant it

Lady Ager 'Tis my love

Makes the request, that you would never part

From England more

Cap Ager With all my heart 'tis granted !-

I'm sure I'm 1' the way never to part from't [Aside 40 Lady Age: Where left you your dear friend the Colonel?

Cap Ager O, the dear Colonel,—I should meet him soon

Lady Ager O fail him not then! he's a gentle man

The fame and reputation of your time

Is much engag'd to

Cap Ager Yes, and 1 you knew all, mother

Lady Ager I thought I'd known so much of his fair goodness,

More could not have been look'd for

Cap Ager O, yes, yes, madam,

And this his last exceeded all the rest

Lady Ager For gratitude's sake, let me know this, I prithee!

Cap Ager Then thus, and I desue your censure² freely, 50

Whether it appear'd not a strange noble kindness in him

Lady Ager Trust me, I long to hear't

Cap Ager You know he's hasty,-

That by the way

Lady Ager So are the best conditions, ¹ Your father was the like

Cap Ager I begin now
To doubt me more why am not I so too then?
Blood follows blood through forty generations,
And I've a slow pac'd wrath—a shrewd dilemma!

60

Who should I liken him to that you have seen?

He comes so near one that I would not match him with,

Faith, just a' th' Colonel's pitch, he's ne'er the worse man,

Usurers have been compar'd to magistrates,
Extortioners to lawyers, and the like,
But they all prove ne'er the worse men for that

Lady Ager That's bad enough, they need not

Cap Ager This rude fellow,

A shame to all humanity or manners, Breathes from the rottenness of his gall and malice The foulest stain that ever man's fame blemish'd, Part of which fell upon your honour, madam, Which heighten'd my affliction

² Properly the height to which a falcon soar'd, then height in general

Lady Ager Mine? my honour, sir?

Cap Ager The Colonel, soon enrag'd, as he's all touchwood,

Takes fire before me, makes the quarrel his,
Appoints the field, my wrath could not be heard,
His was so high pitch'd, so gloriously mounted
Now, what's the friendly fear that fights within me,
Should his brave noble fury undertake
A cause that were unjust in our defence,
And so to lose him everlastingly
80
In that dark depth where all bad quarrels sink
Never to rise again, what pity 'twere
First to die here, and never to die there!

Lady Ager Why, what's the quarrel—speak, sir—that should raise

Such fearful doubt, my honour bearing part on't? The words, whate'er they were Cap Ager Son of a whore!

Lady Ager Thou liest!

Strikes him

And were my love ten thousand times more to thee, Which is as much now as e'er mother's was,

So thou should'st feel my anger Dost thou call 90

That quarrel doubtful? where are all my merits?

Not one stand up to tell this man his error?

Thou might'st as well bring the sun's truth in question

As thy birth or my honour!

Cap Ager Now blessings crown you for't!

It is the joyfull'st blow that e'er flesh felt

Lady Ager Nay, stay, stay, sir, thou art not left so soon

This is no question to be slighted off, And at your pleasure clos'd up fair again, As though you'd never touch'd it no, honour doubted Is honour deeply wounded, and it rages More than a common smart, being of thy making, For thee to fear my truth, it kills my comfort Where should fame seek for her reward, when he That is her own by the great tie of blood, Is farthest off in bounty? O poor goodness! That only pay'st thyself with thy own works, For nothing else looks towards thee Tell me, pray, Which of my loving cares dost thou requite With this vild 1 thought, which of my prayers or wishes? Many thou ow'st me for this seven year hast thou known me 110

A widow, only married to my vow,

That's no small witness of my faith and love

To him that in life was thy honour'd father,

And live I now to know that good mistrusted?

Cap Ager No, 't shall appear that my belief is cheeiful,

For never was a mother's reputation

Noblier defended 'tis my joy and pride

I have a firm [faith] to bestow upon it

Lady Ager What's that you said, sir?

Cap Ager 'Twere too bold and soon yet

To clave forgiveness of you, I'll earn it first

Dead or alive I know I shall enjoy it

140

Lady Ager What's all this, sir?

Cap Ager My joy's beyond expression!

I do but think how wretched I had been

Were this another's quarrel, and not mine

Lady Ager Why, is it yours?

Cap Ager Mine? think me not so miserable, Not to be mine, then were I worse than abject, More to be loath'd than vileness or sin's dunghill Nor did I fear your goodness, faithful madam, But came with greedy joy to be confirm'd in't, To give the nobler onset Then shines valour, And admiration from her fix'd sphere draws, When it comes burnish'd with a righteous cause, Without which I'm ten fathoms under coward, That now am ten degrees above a man, Which is but one of virtue's easiest wonders

Lady Ager But, pray, stay, all this while I understood you

The Colonel was the man

Cap Ager Yes, he's the man, The man of injury, reproach, and slander, Which I must turn into his soul again

Lady Ager The Colonel do't? that's strange!
Cap Ager The villain did it,

That's not so strange —your blessing and your leave

Lady Ager Come, come, you shall not go!

Cap Ager Not go? were death

Sent now to summon me to my eternity, I'd put him off an hour, why, the whole world Has not chains strong enough to oind me from't The strongest is my reverence to you. Which if you force upon me in this case. I must be forc'd to break it Lady Ager Stay, I say! Cap Ager In anything command me but in this, madam Lady Ager 'Las, I shall lose him! [Aside]—You will hear me first? 150 Cap Ager At my return I will Lady Ager You'll never hear me more, then Cap Ager How? Lady Ager Come back, I say! You may well think there's cause I call so often Cap Ager Ha, cause! what cause? Lady Ager So much, you must not go Cap Ager How? Lady Ager You must not go Cap Ager Must not! why? Lady Ager I know a reason for't, Which I could wish you'd yield to, and not know, If not, it must come forth faith, do not know, 160 And yet obey my will Cap Ager Why, I desire To know no other than the cause I have, Nor should you wish it, if you take your injury, For one more great I know the world includes not Lady Ager Yes, one that makes this nothing yet be

And if you understand not, seek no further Cap Ager I must, for this is nothing

Lady Ager Then take all,
And if amongst it you receive that secret
That will offend you, though you condemn me,
Yet blame yourself a little, for, perhaps,
I would have made my reputation sound
Upon another's hazard with less pity,

But upon yours I dare not

Cap Ager How?

Lady Ager I dare not

'Twas your own seeking this

Cap Ager If you mean evilly,

I cannot understand you, nor for all the riches This life has, would I

Lady Ager Would you never might!

Cap Ager Why, your goodness, that I joy to fight for Lady Ager In that you neither right your joy nor me Cap Ager What an ill orator has virtue got here!

Why, shall I dare to think it a thing possible

That you were ever false?

Lady Ager O, fearfully!

As much as you come to

Cap Ager O silence, cover me!

I've felt a deadlier wound than man can give me False!

Lady Ager I was betray'd to a most sinful hour By a corrupted soul I put in trust once, A kinswoman

Cap Ager Where is she? let me pay her!

Lady Ager O, dead long since!

Cap Ager Nay, then, sh'as all her wages
False! do not say't, for honour's goodness, do not!
You never could be so He I call'd father
Deserv'd you at your best, when youth and merit
Could boast at highest in you, y'had no grace
Or virtue that he match'd not, no delight
That you invented but he sent it crown'd
To your full wishing soul

Lady Ager That heaps my guiltiness Cap Ager O, were you so unhappy to be false Both to yourself and me? but to me chiefly What a day's hope is here lost! and with it The joys of a just cause! Had you but thought On such a noble quarrel, you'd ha' died 200 Ere you'd ha' yielded, for the sin's hate flist, Next for the shame of this hour's cowardice Curst be the heat that lost me such a cause. A work that I was made for! Quench, my spirit, And out with honour's flaming lights within thee! Be dark and dead to all respects of manhood! I never shall have use of valour more Put off your vow for shame! why should you hoard up Such justice for a barren widowhood, That was so injurious to the faith of wedlock? 210 Exit LADY AGER

I should be dead, for all my life's work's ended, I dare not fight a stroke now, nor engage
The noble resolution of my friends

Enter two Friends of Captain Ager

Italy, 220

It would be held so

First Fr How? and 1s't not here so?

Cap Ager 'Tis not so contumeliously receiv'd

In these parts, and you mark it

First Fr Not in these?

Why, prithee, what is more, or can'be?

Cap Ager Yes,

That ordinary commotioner, the lie, Is father of most quarrels in this climate,

And held here capital, and you go to that

Sec Fr But, sir, I hope you will not go to that.

Or change your own for it son of a whore!

Why, there's the lie down to posterity,

The lie to birth, the lie to honesty

Why would you cozen yourself so, and beguile

So brave a cause, manhood's best masterpiece?

Do you e'er hope for one so brave again?

Cap Ager Consider then the man, [the] Colonel,

Exactly worthy, absolutely noble, However spleen and rage abuses him, And 'tis not well or manly to pursue A man's infirmity

First Fr O miracle!

So hopeful, valiant, and complete a captain Possess'd with a tame devil! Come out! thou spoilest The most improv'd young soldier of seven kingdoms, Made captain at nineteen, which was deserv'd The year before, but honour comes behind still Come out, I say! Cap Ager Urge me not

First Fr By manhood's reverend honour, but we must !

Cap Ager I will not fight a stroke

First Fr O blasphemy

To sacred valour!

Cap Ager Lead me where you list 250 First Fr Pardon this traitorous slumber, clogg'd with evils

Give captains rather wives than such tame devils t

A Field

Enter CAPTAIN AGER and two Friends

Cap Ager Well, your wills now?

First Fr of Cap Our wills? our loves, our duties
To honour'd fortitude what wills have we
But our desires to nobleness and merit,
Valour's advancement, and the sacred rectitude
Due to a valorous cause?

Cap Ager O that's not mine!

Sec Fr of Cap War has his court of justice, that's the field,

Where all cases of manhood are determin'd, And your case is no mean one

Cap Ager True, then 'twere virtuous, But mine is in extremes, foul and unjust Well, now you've got me hither, you're as far To seek in your desire as at first minute, For by the strength and honour of a vow, I will not lift a finger in this quarrel.

First Fr of Cap How? not in this? be not so rash a sinner

Why, sir, do you ever hope to fight again then? Take heed on't, you must never look for that Why, th' universal stock of the world's injury Will be too poor to find a quarrel for you Give up your right and title to desert, sir If you fail virtue here, she needs you not All your time after, let her take this wrong, And never presume then to serve her more Bid farewell to th' integrity of arms. And let that honourable name of soldier Fall from you like a shiver'd wieath of laurel By thunder struck from a desertless forehead, That wears another's right by usurpation Good captain, do not wilfully cast away At one hour all the fame your life has won This is your native seat, here you should seek Most to preserve it, or if you will dote So much on life, poor life, which in respect Of life in honour is but death and darkness.— That you will prove neglectful of yourself, Which is to me too fearful to imagine, Yet for that virtuous lady's cause, your mother, Her reputation dear to nobleness As grace to penitence, whose fair memory E'en crowns fame in your issue, for that blessedness Give not this ill place, but in spite of hell, And all her base fears, be exactly valuant Cap Ager O, O!

Sec Fr of Cap Why, well said, there's fair hope in that,

Another such a one!

Cap Ager Came they in thousands, 'Tis all against you

First Fr of Cap Then, poor friendless merit,

Heaven be good to thee! thy professor leaves thee

Enter Colonel and two Friends

He's come, 'do but you draw, we'll fight it for you

Cap Ager I know too much to grant that

First Fr of Cap O dead manhood!

Had ever such a cause so faint a servant?

Shame brand me, if I do not suffer for him!

Col I've heard, sir, you've been guilty of much boasting 50

For your brave earliness at such a meeting You've lost the glory of that way this morning,

I was the first to day

Cap Ager So were you ever

In my respect, sir

First Fr of Cap O most base præludium!

Cap Ager I never thought on Victory, our mistress,

With greater reverence than I have your worth,

Nor ever lov'd her better

First Fr of Cap 'Slight, I could knock His brains 'bout his heels, methinks!

Sec Fr of Cap Peace, prithee, peace

Cap Ager Success in you has been my absolute joy, And when I've wish'd content, I've wish'd your friend ship 60

First Fr of Cap Stay, let me but run him through the tongue a little,

There's lawyer's blood in't, you shall see foul gear straight

Sec Fr of Cap Come, you're as mad now as he's cowardous

Col I came not hither, sir, for an encomium

First Fr of Cap No, the more coxcomb he that claws the head

Of your vainglory with't!

[Aside

Col I came provided

For storms and tempests, and the foulest season

That ever rage let forth, or blew in wildness

From the incensed prison of man's blood

Cap Ager 'Tis otherwise with me, I come with mildness, 70

Peace, constant amity, and calm forgiveness,

The weather of a Christian and a friend

First Fr of Cap Give me a valiant Turk, though not worth tenpence, 1 rather

Cap Ager Yet, sir, the world will judge the injury mine,

Insufferably 2 mine, mine beyond injury

² Old eds 'insufferable"

Thousands have made a less wrong reach to hell, Av. and rejoic'd in his most endless vengeance. A miserable triumph, though a just one! But when I call to memory our long friendship, Methinks it cannot be too great a wrong 80 That then I should not pardon Why should man, For a poor hasty syllable or two, And vented only in forgetful fury, Chain all the hopes and riches of his soul To the revenge of that, die lost for ever? For he that makes his last peace with his Maker In anger, anger is his peace eternally He must expect the same return again Whose venture is deceitful, must be not, sir? Col I see what I must do, fairly put up again, 90 For here'll be nothing done, I perceive that Cap Ager What shall be done in such a worthless business But to be sorry, and to be forgiven, You, sir, to bring repentance, and I pardon?

Col I bring repentance, sir?

Cap Ager If't be too much

To say repentance, call it what you please, sir. Choose your own word I know you're sorry for't, And that's as good

Col I sorry? by fame's honour, I am wrong'd! Do you seek for peace, and draw the guarrel larger? Cap Ager Then 'tis I am sorry that I thought you

First Fr of Cap A captain! I could gnaw his title off VOT. IV

Cap Ager Nor is it any misbecoming virtue, sir, In the best manliness to repent a wrong, Which made me bold with you

First Fr of Cap I could cuff his head off

Sec Fr of Cap Nay, pish!

First Fr of Cap Pox on him, I could eat his buttock bak'd, methinks!

Col So, once again take thou thy peaceful rest, then, [Sheathing his sword

But as I put thee up, I must proclaim

This captain here, both to his friends and mine,

That only came to see fair valour righted,

A base submissive coward, so I leave him

[Offis to go arvay

Cap Ager O, heaven has pitied my excessive patience, And sent me a cause ! now I have a cause,

A coward I was never -Come you back, sir !

Col How?

Cap Ager You left a coward here

Col Yes, sir, with you

Cap Ager 'Tis such base metal, sir, 'twill not be taken,

It must home again with you

Sec Fr of Cap Should this be true now!

First Fr of Cap Impossible! coward do more than bastard?

Col I prithee, mock me not, take heed you do not, For if I draw once more, I shall grow terrible, And rage will force me do what will grieve honour

Cap Ager Ha, ha, ha!

Col He smiles, dare it be he?-What think you, gentlemen?

Your judgments, shall I not be cozen'd in him? This cannot be the man why, he was bookish, Made an invective lately against fighting, A thing, in troth, that mov'd a little with me, Put up a fouler contumely far 0, 1 Than thousand cowards came to, and grew thankful Cap Ager Blessed remembrance in time of need !

I'd lost my honour else

Sec Fr of Cap Do you note his joy? Cap Ager I never felt a more severe necessity, Then came thy excellent pity Not yet lendy? Have you such confidence in my just manhood, That you dare so long trust me, and yet tempt me Beyond the toleration of man's virtue? Why, would you be more cruel than your injury? Do you first take pride to wrong me, and then think me

Not worth your fury? do not use me so, I shall deceive you then Sir, either draw, And that not slightingly, but with the care Of your best preservation, with that watchfulness As you'd defend yourself from circular fire, Your sin's rage, or her lord—this will require it— Or you'll be too soon lost, for I've an anger Has gathered mighty strength against you, mighty Yet you shall find it honest to the last, Noble and fair

Col I'll venture't once again,

140

And if't be but as true as it is wondrous,

I shall have that I come for your leave, gentlemen

First Fr of Cap If he should do't indeed, and de ceive's all now!

Stay, by this hand he offers—fights, i'faith ' [Colonel and CAPTAIN AGER fight

Fights, by this light he fights, sir

Sec Fr of Cap So methinks, sir

First Fr of Cap An absolute punto, hey?

Sec Fr of Cap 'Twas a passado, sir

First Fr of Cap Why let the page and 'twas I

First Fr of Cap Why, let it pass, and 'twas, I'm sure 'twas somewhat

What's that now?

Sec Fr of Cap That's a punto First Fr of Cap O, go to, then,

I knew 'twas not far off What a world's this!

Is coward a more stirring meat than bastard, my masters?

Put in more eggs, for shame, when you get children, And make it true court custard —Ho, I honour thee! 'Tis right and fair, and he that breathes against it, He breathes against the justice of a man, And man to cut him off 'tis no injustice

[The Colonel falls

Thanks, thanks for this most unexpected nobleness!

Cap Ager Truth never fails her servant, sir, nor leaves him

With the day's shame upon him

First Fr of Cap Thou'st redeem'd

Thy worth to the same height 'twas first esteem'd 1

[Exit Captain Ager with his Friends

First Fr of Col Alas, how is it, sir give us some

Of your stay with us let your spirit be seen

The whole of this scene and nearly all of it is are quoted in Lamb s I subjoin his masterly criticism it is familiar to every reader but we can never read Lamb enough - The insipid levelling morality to which the modern stage is tied down would not admit of such admirable passions as these scenes are filled with A puritanical obtuseness of sentiment a stupid infantile goodness is creeping among us instead of the vigorous passions and virtues clad in flesh and blood with which the old dramatists present us Those noble and liberal casuists could discern in the differences, the quairels the animosities of man, a beauty and truth of moral feeling, no less than in the iterately inculcated duties of forgiveness and atonement. With us all is hypocritical meekness A reconciliation scene (let the occasion be never so absurd or unnatural) is always sure of applause. Our audiences come to the theatre to be complimented on their goodness They compare notes with the amiable characters in the play, and find a wonderful similarity of disposition between them We have a common stock of dramatic morality, out of which a writer may be supplied without the trouble of copying it from originals within his own breast. To I now the boundaries of honour, to be judiciously valuent, to have a temperance which shall beget a smoothness in the angry swellings of youth, to esteem life as nothing when the sacred reputation of a parent is to be defended yet to shall e and tremble under a pious cowai dice when that ask of an honest confidence is found to be frail and tottering, to feel the true blows of a real disgrace blunting that sword which the imaginary strokes of a supposed false imputation had put so keen an edge upon but lately to do or to imagine this done in a feigned story, asks some thing more of a moral sense somewhat a greater delicacy of perception in questions of right and wrong than goes to the writing of two or three hackneyed sentences about the laws of honour as opposed to the laws of the land or a commonplace against duelling Yet such things would stand a writer now a days in far better stead than Captain Ager and his conscientious honour, and he would be considered as a far better teacher of morality than old Rowley or Middleton if they were living

Above your fortune, the best fortitude
Has been of fate ill friended now force your empire,
And reign above your blood, spite of dejection,
Reduce 1 the monarchy of your abler mind,
Let not flesh straiten it

Col O, just heaven has found me,
And turn'd the stings 2 of my too hasty injuries
Into my own blood! I pursu'd my ruin,
And urg'd him past the patience of an angel
Could man's revenge extend beyond man's life,
Iso
This would ha' wak'd it—If this flame will light me
But till I see my sister, 'tis a kind one,
More I expect not from't—Noble deserver!
Farewell, most valiant and most wrong'd of men,
Do but forgive me, and I'm victor then

[Exit, led off by his Friends

ACT IV

The Roaring-School

Enter the Colonel's Friend, Chough, TRIMTRAM, Usher, and several Roarers

Col's Fr Truth, sir, I must needs blame you for a truant, having but one lesson read to you, and neglect so soon, fie, I must see you once a day at least

Chough Would I were whipt, tutor, if it were not 'long of my man Trimtram here'

Trim Who, of me?

Chough Take't upon thee, Trim, I'll give thee five shillings, as I am a gentleman

Trim I'll see you whipt first —well, I will too — Faith, sir, I saw he was not perfect, and I was loath he should come before to shame himself

Col's Fr How? shame, sir? is it a shame for scholars to learn? Sir, there are great scholars that are but

slenderly read in our profession sir, first it must be economical, then ecumenical shame not to practise in the house how to perform in the field the nail that is driven takes a little hold at the first stroke, but more at the second, and more at the third, but when 'tis home to the head, then 'tis firm

Chough Faith, I have been driving it home to the head this two days

Trim I helped to hammer it in as well as I could too, sir

Col's Fr Well, sir, I will hear you rehearse anon meantime peruse the exemplary of my bills, and tell me in what language I shall roar a lecture to you, or I'll read to you the mathematical science of roaring

Chough Is it mathematical?

Col's Fr O, sir, does not the winds rour, the sea roar, the welkin roar?—indeed most things do loar by nature—and is not the knowledge of these things mathematical?

Chough Pray proceed, sir

Col's Fr [reads] The names of the languages, the Sclavonian, Parthamenian, Barmeothian, Tyburnian, Wappinganian, or the modern Londonian any man or woman that is desirous to roor in any of these languages, in a week they shall be perfect if they will take pains, so let'em repair into Holborn to the sign of the Cheat Loaf

Chough Now your bill speaks of that I was wonder ing a good while at, your sign, the loaf looks very like bread, i'faith, but why is it called the Cheat loaf?

42

Col's Fr This house was sometimes a baker's, sir, that served the court, where the bread is called cheat 1

Trim Ay, ay, 'twas a baker that cheated the court with bread

Col's Fr Well, sir, choose your languages, and your lectures shall be read, between my usher and myself, for your better instruction, provided your conditions be per formed in the premises beforesaid

Chough Look you, sir, there's twenty pound in hand, and twenty more I am to pay when I am allowed a sufficient roarer [Gives money

Col's Fr You speak in good earnest, sir?

Chough Yes, faith do I Trimtram shall be my witness

Trim Yes, indeed, sir, twenty pound is very good earnest

Ush Sir, one thing I must tell you belongs to my place you are the youngest scholar, and till another comes under you, there is a certain garnish belongs to the school, for in our practice we grow to a quairel, then there must be wine ready to make all filends, for that's the end of rouring, 'tis valiant, but harmless, and this charge is yours

Chough With all my heart, i'faith, and I like it the better because no blood comes on it who shall fetch?

First Roar² I'll be your spaniel, sir 69

Ush No, you shall not, let me see the money so [takes the money], I'll keep it, and discharge him after the combat [Ent First Roarer] For your practice sake, you and your man shall roar him out on't—for indeed you must pay your debts so, for that's one of the main ends of roaring—and when you have left him in a chafe, then I'll qualify the rascal

Chough Content — I'faith, Trim, we'll roar the rusty rascal out of his tobacco 80

Trim Ay, and he had the best craccus in London

Col's Fr Observe, sir, we could now roar in the Sclavonian language, but this practice hath been a little sublime, some hairsbreadth or so above your caput, I take it, for your use and understanding both, it were fitter for you to taste the modern assault, only the Londonian roar

Chough I'faith, sir, that's for my purpose, for I shall use all my roaring here in London in Cornwall we are all for wrestling, and I do not mean to travel over sea to roar there

Col's Fr Observe then, sir,—but it were necessary you took forth your tables 1 to note the most difficult points for the better assistance of your memory

Chough Nay, sir, my man and I keep two tables

Trim Ay, sir, and as many trenchers, cats' meat and dogs' meat enough

Col's Fr O, the wine must be always provided, be sure of that

Ush Else you spoil the conclusion, and that you know crowns all

Chough 'Tis much like wrestling, l'faith, for we shake hands ere we begin, now that's to avoid the law, for then if he throw him a furlong into the ground, he cannot recover himself upon him, because 'twas done in cold friendship

Col's Fr I believe you, sii

Chough And then we drink afterwards, just in this fashion wrestling and roaning are as like as can be, i'faith, even like long sword and half pike

 $Col's\ Fr$ Nay, they are reciprocal, if you mark it, for as there is a great roaring at wrestling, so there is a kind of wrestling and contention at roaring

Chough True, i'faith, for I have heard 'em ioar from the six windmills i to Islington those have been great falls then

Col's Fr Come now, a buef rehearsal of your other day's lesson, betwixt your man and you, and then for to day we break up school

Chough Come, Trimtram—If I be out, tutor, I'll be bold to look in my tables, because I doubt I am scarce perfect

Trim Thy mourners all greasy tapsters!

Chough With foul tobacco pipes in their hats, instead of rotten rosemary, 1 and last of all, may my man and I live to see all this performed, and to piss reeking even upon thy grave!

Trim And last of all for me, let this epitaph be remembered over thee

Here coldly now within is laid to rot

A man that yesterday was piping hot

Some say he died by pudding, some by pricl,²

Others by roll³ and ball, some leaf, all stick

Fast in censure,⁴ yet think it strange and rare,

He liv'd by smoke, yet died for want of air

But then the surgeon said, when he beheld him,

It was the burning of his pipe that kill'd him

Chough So, are you paid now, whiffler?

Vap All this is but smoke out of a stinking pipe

Chough So, so, pay him now, usher

[VAPOUR is paid by the Usher, and exit

A Chamber in the Colonel's House

The 1 Colonel discovered lying on a couch, several of his friends watching him as the Surgeon is going out, the Colonel's Sister enters

Col's Sist O my most worthy brother, thy hard fate 'twas!—

Come hither, honest surgeon, and deal faithfully With a distressed virgin what hope is there?

Col's Sist How, sir?

Col Read it again, sir, let her hear it plain 70 Col's Sist Prav, spare your pains, sir, 'tis too plain already —

Good sir, how do you? is your memory perfect? This will makes question of you I bestow'd So much grief and compassion a' your wound, I never look'd into your senses' epilepsy. The sickness and infirmity of your judgment. Is to be doubted now more than your body's Why, is your love no dearer to me, sir, Than to dispose me so upon the man. Whose fury is your body's present torment, The author of your danger? one I hate. Beyond the bounds of malice. Do you not feel. His wrath upon you? I beseech you, sir, Alter that cruel article!

Col Cruel, sister?—

Forgive me, natural love, I must offend thee, Speaking to this woman -Am I content. Having much kindred, yet to give thee all, Because in thee I'd raise my means to goodness, And canst thou prove so thankless to my bounty, To grudge my soul her peace? is my intent 90 To leave her rich, whose only desire is To send me poorer into the next world Than ever usurer went, or politic statist? Is it so burdensome for thee to love Where I forgive? O, wretched is the man That builds the last hopes of his saving comforts Upon a woman's charity! he's most miserable If it were possible, her obstinate will Will pull him down in his midway to heaven I've wrong'd that worthy man past recompense, 100 And in my anger robb'd him of fair fame. And thou the fairest restitution art My life could yield him if I knew a fairer, I'd set thee by and thy unwilling goodness, And never make my sacred peace of thee But there's the cruelty of a fate debarr'd Thou art the last, and all, and thou art hard! Col's Sist Let your griev'd heart hold better thoughts of me,

I will not prove so, sir, but since you enforce it With such a strength of passion, I'll perform What by your will you have enjoin'd me to, Though the world never show me joy again

Col O, this may be fair cunning for the time,
To put me off, knowing I hold not long,
And when I look to have my joys accomplish'd,
I shall find no such things—that were vild 1 cozenage,
And not to be repented

Col's Sist By all the blessedness

Truth and a good life looks for, I will do't, sir!

SCENE III

Cap Ager No sooner have I entrance i' this house now

But all my joy falls from me, which was wont
To be the sanctuary of my comforts
Methought I lov'd it with a reverent gladness,
As holy men do consecrated temples
For the saint's sake, which I believ'd my mother,
But prov'd a false faith since, a fearful heresy
O, who'd erect th' assurance of his joys
Upon a woman's goodness! whose best virtue
Is to commit unseen, and highest secrecy
To hide but her own sin, there's their perfection

And if she be so good, which many fail of too, When these are bad, how wondrous ill are they! What comfort is't to fight, win this day's fame, When all my after days are lamps of shame?

Lady Ager Blessings be firm to me! he's come, 'tis he!—— [Aside

A surgeon speedily !

Cap Ager A surgeon? why, madam?

Lady Ager Perhaps you'll say 'tis but a little wound, Good to prevent a danger —quick, a surgeon!

Cap Ager Why, madam?

20

Lady Ager Ay, ay, that's all the fault of valuant men, They'll not be known a' their hurts till they're past help, And then too late they wish for't

Cap Ager Will you hear me?

Lady Ager 'Tis no disparagement to confess a wound, I'm glad, sir, 'tis no worse —a surgeon quickly!

Cap Ager Madam-

Lady Ager Come, come, sir, a wound's honourable, And never shames the wearer

Cap Ager By the justice

I owe to honour, I came off untouch'd!

Lady Ager I'd rather believe that

Cap Ager You believe truth so

Lady Ager My tears prevail then Welcome, welcome, sir,

As peace and mercy to one new departed!

Q

Why would you go though, and deceive me so, When my abundant love took all the course That might be to pievent it? I did that For my affection's sake—goodness forgive me foi't!—That were my own life's safety put upon't, I'd rather die than do't Think how you us'd me then, And yet would you go and hazard yourself too! 'Twas but unkindly done

Cap Ager What's all this, madam?

Lady Ager See, then, how rash you were and short in wisdom!

Why, wrong my faith I did, slander'd my constancy,
Belied my truth, that which few mothers will,
Or fewer can, I did, out of true fear
And loving care, only to keep thee here
Cap Ager I doubt I'm too quick of apprehension now.

And that's a general fault when we hear joyfully, With the desire of longing for't I ask it, Why, were you never false?

Lady Ager May death come to me Before repentance then!

Cap Ager I heard it plain sure—Not false at all?

Lady Ager By the reward of truth, 50 I never knew that deed that claims the name on't!

Cap Ager May, then, that glorious reward you swore by

Be never failing to you! all the blessings
That you have given me, since obedient custom

Taught me to kneel and ask 'em, are not valuable With this immaculate blessing of your truth This is the palm to victory, The crown for all deserts past and to come Let 'em be numberless, they are rewarded, Already they're rewarded Bless this frame, 60 I feel it much too weak to bear the joy on't Kneels Lady Ager Rise, sir Cap Ager O, pardon me! I cannot honour you too much, too long I kneel not only to a mother now. But to a woman that was never false Ye're dear, and ve're good too, I think a' that What reverence does she ment! 'tis fit such Should be distinguish'd from the prostrate sex, And what distinction properer can be shown, Than honour done to her that keeps her own? 70 Lady Ager Come, sir, I'll have you rise Cap Ager To do a deed, then, Reses That shall for ever raise me O my glory, Why, this, this is the quarrel that I look'd for! The other 1 but a shift to hold time play You sacred ministers of preservation, For heaven's sake send him life, And with it mighty health, and such a strength May equal but the cause! I wish no foul things If life but glow in him, he shall know instantly

That I'm resolv'd to call him to account for't

Lady Ager Why, hark you, sir-

Cap Ager I bind you by your honour, madam,

You speak no hindrance to's, take heed, you ought not Lady Ager What an unhappiness have I in goodness!

'Tis ever my desire to intend well,

But have no fortunate way in't For all this

Deserve I yet no better of you

But to be griev'd again? Are you not well

With honest gain of fame, with safety puichas'd?

Will you needs tempt a run that avoids you? [Exit

Cap Ages No, you've prevail'd things of this nature sprung, 90

When they use action must use little tongue —

Enter Servant

Now, sir, the news?

Ser Sir, there's a gentlewoman

Desires some conference with you

Cap Ager How, with me?

A gentlewoman? what is she?

Ser Her attendant

Deliver'd her to be the Colonel's sister

Cap Ager O, for a storm then ! [East Servant] 'las, poor, virtuous gentlewoman,

I will endure her violence with much pity!

She comes to ease her heart, good, noble soul,

'Tis e'en a charity to release the burden,

Were not that remedy ordain'd for women, 100
Their hearts would never hold three years together
And here she comes, I never mark'd so much of her,

Enter Colonel's Sister

That face can be the mistress of no anger
But I might very well endure a month, methinks—
I am the man, speak, lady, I'll stand fair

Col's Sist And I'm enjoin'd by vow to fall thus low,

[Kneels

And from the dying hand of a repentant
Offer, for expiation of wrongs done you,
Myself, and with myself all that was his,
Which upon that condition was made mine,
Being his soul's wish to depart absolute man,
In life a soldier, death a Christian

Cap Ager O, heaven has touch'd him nobly thow it shames

My virtue's slow perfection! Rise, dear brightness—I foiget manners too—up, matchless sweetness!

Col's Sist I must not, sii, there is not in my vow
That liberty, I must be receiv'd first,
Or all denied, if either, I am free

Cap Ager He must be without soul should deny thee,

And with that reverence I receive the gift 120 As it was sent me [Raises her] Worthy Colonel,

Has such a conquering way i' th' blest things!

Whoever overcomes, he only wins [Exeunt

A Street a noise of "hem" 2 within

Enter Captain Albo, Meg, and Priss

Meg Hark of these hard hearted bloodhounds! these butchers are e'en as merciless as their dogs, they knock down a woman's fame e'en as it walks the streets by 'em

Priss And the Captain here that should defend us walks by like John of the apple loft ³

Cap Albo What for interjections, Priss, hem, evax, vah? let the carnifexes scour their throats! thou knowest there is a curse hangs over their bloody heads, this year there shall be more butchers' pricks burnt than of all trades besides

Meg I do wonder how thou camest to be a captain Cap Albo As thou camest to be a bawd, Meg, and Priss to be a whore, every one by their deserts

Meg Bawd and whore? out, you unprofitable rascal! hast not thou been at the new play yet, to teach thee better manners? truly they say they are the finest players, and good speakers of gentlewomen of our quality, bawd

and whore is not mentioned amongst 'em, but the handsomest narrow mouthed names they have for us, that some of them may serve as well for a lady as for one of our occupation

Priss Prithee, patroness, let's go see a piece of that play, if we shall have good words for our money, 'tis as much as we can deserve, 1'faith

Meg I doubt 'tis too late now, but another time, servant

Cap Albo Let's go now, sweet face, I am acquainted with one of the pantomimics, the bulchins will use the Irish captain with respect, and you two shall be boxed amongst the better sort

Priss Sirrah captain Albo, I doubt you are but white livered, look that you defend us valiantly, you know your penance else—Patroness, you remember how you used him once?

Meg Ay, servant, and I shall never forget it till I use him so again —Do you remember, captain?

Cap Albo Mum, Meg, I will not hear on't now

Meg How I and my Amazons stript you as naked as an Indian——

Cap Albo Why, Meg----

Meg And then how I bound you to the good behaviour in the open fields——

Priss And then you strowed oats upon his hoppers——

Cap Albo Prithee, sweet face-

Priss And then brought your ducks to nibble upon him —You remember?

Cap Albo O, the remembrance tortures me again ! no more, good sweet face

Meg Well, lead on, sir, but hark a little

50

Enter CHOUGH and TRIMTRAM

Chough Didst thou bargain for the bladders with the butcher, Trim?

Trim Ay, sir, I have 'em here, I'll practise to swim too, sir, and then I may roar with the water at London Bridge he that roars by land and by water both is the perfect roarer

Chough Well, I'll venture to swim too if my father in law gives me a good dowry with his daughter, I shall hold up my head well enough

Trim Peace, sir, here's practice for our roaring, here's a centaur and two hippocrenes

Chough Offer the jostle, Trim

[TRIMTRAM jostles Captain Albo

Cap Albo Ha! what meanest thou by that?

Trim I mean to confront thee, cyclops

Chough I'll tell thee what 'a means—is this thy sister?

Cap Albo How then, sir?

Chough Why, then, I say she is a bronstrops, and this is a fucus

Priss No, indeed, sir, we are both fucusses

Cap Albo Art thou military? art thou a soldier?

Chough A soldier? no, I scorn to be so poor, I am a roarer

Cap Albo A roarer?

Trim Ay, sir, two roarers

Cap Albo Know, then, my fresh water friends, that I am a captain

Chough What, and have but two to serve under you?

Cap Albo I am now retning the field

Trim You may see that by his bag and baggage 80

Chough Deliver up thy panagron to me

Trim And give me thy sindicus

Cap Albo Deliver?

Meg I pray you, captain, be contented, the gentle men seem to give us very good words

Chough Good words? ay, if you could understand 'em, the words cost twenty pound

Meg What is your pleasure, gentlemen?

Chough I would enucleate my fructifier

Priss What says he, patroness?

90

 $M_{i}g$ He would enoculate I understand the gentle man very pithily

Cap Albo Speak, are you gentle or plebean? can you give arms?

Chough Arms? ay, sir, you shall feel our arms presently

Trim 'Sault you the women, I'll pepper him till he stinks again $\ \ I$ perceive what countryman he is , let me alone with him

Cap Albo Darest thou charge a captain? 100
Trim Yes, and discharge upon him too

Cap Albo Foh, 'tis poison to my country, the slave has eaten pippins! O, shoot no more! turn both thy broadsides rather than thy poop, 'tis foul play, my country breeds no poison! I yield, the great O Toole? shall yield on these conditions

Chough I have given one of 'em a fair fall, Trim
Trim Then thus far we bring home conquest—
Follow me, captain, the cyclops doth command

It was prefixed to the first edition of a poem by Taylor 1622, To the Honour of the Noble Captaine O Toole which is reprinted in the water poet's Works 1630 In this ironical panegyric his exploits against the Irish rebels are celebrated

'Thou shewdst thy selfe a doughty wight at Dublin When Irish Rebells madly brought the trouble in At Baltimore Kinsale at Corke and Yoghall,' &c

But his own country was not the only one in which O Toole figured he served as a volunteer, and displayed his courage and absurdities in various parts of Europe The Argument to the poem just quoted informs us that his 'Youth was dedicated to Mars and his age to Westminster which ancient Cittie is now nonour d with his beloued Residance'"—Dyce

Trim Why, now you come to the conclusion

Chough Stay, Trim, I have heard your tweaks are like your meimaids, they have sweet voices to entice the passengers let's have a song, and then we'll set 'em at liberty

A Room in Russell's House

Enter Physician and Jane dressed as a Bride

Phy Will you be obstinate?

Jane Torment me not,

Thou lingering executioner to death,

Greatest disease to nature, that striv'st by art

To make men long a dying! your practice is

Upon men's bodies, as men pull roses

For their own relish, but to kill the flower,

So you maintain your lives by others' deaths

What eat you then but! carrion?

Phy Fie, bitterness!
Ye'd need to candy o'er your tongue a little,
Your words will hardly be digested else

Jane You can give yourself a vomit to return 'em, If they offend your stomach

Phy Hear my vow,
You are 2 to be married to day———

Enter TRIMTRAM with rosemary 1

This is the bridegroom's man —Hark, sir, a word

Trim 'Tis a busy day, sir, nor I need no physic,
You see I scour about my business

Phy Pray you, a word, sir your master is to be married to day?

Trim Else all this rosemary's lost

Phy I would speak with your master, sir

Trim My master, sir, is to be married this morning, and cannot be within while 2 soon at night

Phy If you will do your master the best service That e'er you did him, if he shall not curse Your negligence hereafter slacking it, If he shall bless me for the dearest friend That ever his acquaintance met withal, Let me speak with him ere he go to church

Trim A right physician! you would have none go to the church nor churchyard till you send them thither well, if death do not spare you yourselves, he deals hardly with you, for you are better benefactors and send more to him than all diseases besides

Chough [within] What, Trimtram, Trimtram!

Irm I come, sir—Hark you, you may hear him! he's upon the spur, and would fain mount the saddle of matrimony, but, if I can, I'll persuade him to come to you

Enter CHOUGH

Chough Who's that would speak with me?

Phy None but a friend, sir, I would speak with you

Chough Why, sir, and I dare speak with any man under the universe Can you roar, sir?

Phy No. in faith, sir,

I come to tell you mildly for your good,

If you please to hear me you are upon marriage? 70 Chough No, sir, I am towards it, but not upon it yet

Phy Do you know what you do?

Chough Yes, sir, I hav practised what to do before now, I would be ashamed to be married else I have seen a bronstrops in my time, and a hippocrene, and a tweak too

Phy Take fair heed, sir, the wife that you would marry

Is not fit for you

Chough Why, sir, have you tried her?

Phy Not I, believe it, sir, but believe withal She has been tried

Chough Why, sir, is she a fructifer or a fucus?

Phy All that I speak, sir, is in love to you

Your bride, that may be, has not that portion That a bride should have

Chough Why, sir, she has a thousand and a better penny

Phy I do not speak of rubbish, dross, and ore, But the refined metal, honour, sir

Chough What she wants in honour shall be made up in worship, sir, money will purchase both

Phy To be plain with you, she's naught

Chough If thou canst not roar, thou'rt a dead man' my bride naught? [Drawing his sword]

Phy Sir, I do not fear you that way, what I speak
[Drawing his sword]

My life shall maintain, I say she is naught

Chough Dost thou not fear me?

Phy Indeed I do not, sir

Chough I'll never draw upon thee while I live for that trick , put up and speak freely 100

Phy Your intended bride is a whore, that's freely, sir

Chough Yes, faith, a whore's free enough, and 1 she hath a conscience is she a whore? foot, I warrant she has the pox then

Phy Worse, the plague, 'tis more incurable Chough A plaguy whore? a pox on her, I'll none of her!

Phy Mine accusation shall have firm evidence,

I will produce an unavoided witness, A bastard of her bearing

Chough A bastard? 'snails, there's great suspicion she's a whore then! I'll wrestle a fall with her father for putting this trick upon me, as I am a gentleman 112

Phy Good sir, mistake me not, I do not speak To break the contract of united heaits, I will not pull that cuise upon my head, To separate the husband and the wife, But this, in love, I thought fit to reveal, As the due office betwint man and man, That you might not be ignorant of your ills Consider now of my premonishment As vouiselt shall please

How is't possible to suffice
So many ears, so many eyes?
Some in wit, some in shows
Take delight, and some in clothes
Some for mirth they chiefly come,
Some for passion, —for both some,
Some for lascivious meetings, that's their arrant,
Some to detract, and ignorance their warrant
How is't possible to please

Seize you above, and apprehension
You below, to take things quickly,

Phil How much is truth abus'd

When 'tis kept silent! O defend me, friendship!

Sav True, your anger's in an error all this while,

But that a lover's weapon ne'er 2 hears reason,
'Tis out still, like a madman's hear but me, sir,
'Tis my young master's injury, not yours,
That you quarrel with him for, and this shows
As if you'd challenge a lame man the field,
And cut off's head, because he has lost his legs
His grief makes him dead flesh, as it appear'd
By offering up his breast to you, for, believe it, sir,
Had he not greater crosses of his own,
Your hilts could not cross him——

Sand How!

Sav Not your hilts, sir

Come, I must have you friends, a pox of weapons! There's a whole gapes for't, put it up i' the scabbard Sand [sheathing his sword] Thou'it a mad slave!

Sav Come, give me both your hands, 50 You're in a quagmire both, should I release you now,

Your wits would both come home in a stinking pickle, Your father's old nose would smell you out presently

Phil Tell him the secret, which no mortal knows But thou and I, and then he will confess How much he wrong'd the patience of his friend

Sav Then thus the marigold opens at the splendour Of a hot, constant friendship 'twixt you both 'Tis not unknown to your ear, some ten years since, My mistress, his good mother, with a daughter 60 About the age of six, crossing to Guernsey, Was taken by the Dunkirks, sold both, and separated, As the last news brings hot,-the first and last So much discover'd, for in nine years' space No certain tidings of their life or death, Or what place held 'em, earth, the sea, or heaven, Came to the old man's ears, the knight my master, Till about five months since a letter came. Sent from the mother, which related all Their taking, selling, separation, 70 And never meeting, and withal requir'd Six hundred crowns for ransom, which my old master No sooner heard the sound, but told the sum, Gave him ' the gold, and sent us both abroad We landing by the way-having a care To lighten us of our carriage, because gold Is such a heavy metal—eas'd our pockets In wenches' aprons women were made to bear, But for us gentlemen 'tis most unkindly 8 Sand Well, sir?

Phil A pure rogue still!

² Philip ³ Against kind,—unnatural

Sav Amongst the rest, sir, 80
'Twas my young master's chance there to doat finely
Upon a sweet young gentlewoman, but one
That would not sell her honour for the Indies,
Till a priest struck the bargain, and then half
A crown despatch'd it,
To be brief, wedded her and bedded her,
Brought her home byther to be fotbor's house.

Brought her home hither to her father's house, And, with a fair tale of mine own bringing up, She passes for his sister that was sold

Sand Let me not lose myself in wondering at thee!

But how made you your score even for the mother? 91

San Pish, easily, we told him how her fortunes

Mock'd us as they mock'd her, when we were o' the sea

She was o' the land, and, as report was given, When we were landed, she was gone to heaven, So he believes two lies one error bred, The daughter ransom'd, and the mother dead

Sand Let me admire thee, and withal confess My injuries to friendship t

Phil They're all pardon'd

These are the arms I bore against my friend

Sav But what's all this to the present? this discourse Leaves you i' the bog still

Phil On, good Savourwit

Sav For yet our policy has cross'd ourselves, For the old knave, my master, little thinking her Wife to his son, but his own daughter still, Seeks out a match for her——

Phil Here I feel the surgeon At second dressing

Sav And has entertain'd,

Even for pure need, for fear the glass should crack

That is already broken but well solder'd,

A mere sot for her suitor, a rank fox,

One Weatherwise, that wooes by the almanac,

Observes the full and change, an arrant moon calf,

And yet, because the fool demands no portion

But the bare dower of her smock, the old fellow,

Worn to the bone with a dry, covetous tich,

To save his purse, and yet bestow his child,

Consents to waste [her on] lumps of almanac stuff

Kned with May butter Now, as I have thought on't,

I'll spoil him in the baking

Sand Prithee, as how, sirrah?

Sav I'll give him such a crack in one o'/the sides, 120 He shall quite run out of my master's favour

Phil I should but too much love thee for that Sav Thus, then,

To help you both at once, and so good night to you After my wit has shipp'd away the fool, As he shall part, I'll buzz into the ear

Here comes the lady widow, the late wife
To the deceas'd sir Avarice Goldenfleece,
Second to none for usury and extortion,
As too well it appears on a poor gentleman,
One master Low water, from whose estate
He pull'd that fleece that makes his widow weight

Sir O Twi 'Tis true, and I'm right glad on't

Sav Are you glad, sir,

There's no proportion in't?

Sir O Twn Ay, marry am I, sir I can abide no word that ends in portion, I'll give her nothing

Sav Say you should not, sir—

As I'll ne'er urge your worship 'gainst your nature—
Is there no gentleman, think you, of worth and credit,
Will open 's bed to warm a naked maid?
A hundred gallant fellows, and be glad To be so set a work virginity

Is no such cheap ware as you make account on,
That it had need with portion be set off,
For that sets off a portion in these days
Sir O Twi Play on, sweet boy,
O, I could hear this music all day long,
When there's no money to be parted from!
Strike on, good lad

Sav Do not wise men and great often bestow
Ten thousand pound in jewels that lie by 'em'?
If so, what jewel can lie by a man
More precious than a virgin? if none more precious, 220
Why should the pillow of a fool be grac'd
With that brave spirits with dearness have embiac'd?
And then, perhaps, ere the third spring come on,
Sends home your diamond crack'd, the beauty gone,
And more to know her, 'cause you shall not doubt her,
A number of poor sparks twinkling about her

Sir O Twi Now thou play'st Dowland's Lacrymæ¹ to thy master

Sav But shall I dry your eyes with a merry jig now, And make you look like sunshine in a shower?

Sir O Twi How, how, my honest boy, sweet Savour wit? 230

Sav Young master Sandfield, gallant master Sand field——

Sir O Twi Ha! what of him?

¹ John Dowland, the famous lutenist, was born in 1562 and died in 1615 He travelled much abroad and was for some time lutenist to the King of Denmark His Lacryma, or Seven Tears figured in Seven Passionate Pavans, &-c, was a very popular musical work

Sav Affects your daughter strangely

Sir O Twi Brave master Sandfield!—let me hug thy zeal

Unto thy master's house,—ha, master Sandfield ¹ But he'll expect a portion

Sav Not a whit, sir,

As you may use the matter

Sir O Twn Nay, and the matter fall into my using, The devil a penny that he gets of me!

Sir O Twi Say'st thou me so?

240

Is he so far in doing?

Sav Quite over head and ears, sir, Nay, more, he means to run mad, and break his neck Off some high steeple, if he have her not

Sir O Twn Now bless the young gentleman's gristles !

I hope to be

A grandfather yet by 'em

Sav That may you, sir,

To, marry, a chopping girl with a plump buttock,

Will hoist a farthingale at five years old,

And call a man between eleven and twelve

To take part of a piece of mutton with her

Sir O Twi Ha, precious wag hook him in finely, do 250

Sav Make clear the way for him first, set the gull going

Sir O Twi An ass, an ass, I'll quickly dash his wooing

Sav Why, now the clocks

² Wide breeches

D Mer Faith, within this month, sir, I saw her talk and eat, and those, in our calendar, Are signs of life and health

Sir O Twi Mass, so they are in ours!

D Mer And these were the last words her passion 1 threw me.—

No grief, quoth she, sits to my heart so close As his unkindness, and my daughter's loss

Sir O Twn You make me weep and wonder, for I swear

I sent her ransom, and that daughter's here

D Mer Here! that will come well to lighten her of one grief,

I long to see her, for the piteous moan

Her mother made for her

Sir O Twi That shall you, sir — Within there!

Sir O Twi There's a new reckoning come in since

Sav Pox on't,

I thought all had been paid, I can't abide

These after reckonings [Aside Sir O Twi I pray, come near, sir, let's be acquainted with you,

You're bold enough abroad with my purse, sir

Sau No more than beseems manners and good use,

Sir O Twi Did not you bring me word some ten weeks since,

My wife was dead?

Sav Yes, true, sir, very true, sir

Sir O Twi Pray, stay, and take my horse along with you,—

And with the ransom that I sent for her,

That you redeem'd my daughter?

Sav Right as can be, sir,

Sir O Twi What says the boy?

Sav He says his father is troubled with an imperfection at one time of the moon, and talks like a madman

Sir O Twi What, does the boy say so?

Sav I knew there was somewhat in't

Your wife alive! will you believe all tales, sir?

Sir O Twi Nay, more, sir, he told me he saw this wench,

Sir O Twi What's the same zein zennon? 169

Sav That is, he saw no such wench in an inn 'tis well I came in such happy time, to get it out of the boy before his father returned again pray, be wary, sir, the world's subtle, come and pretend a charitable business in policy, and work out a piece of money on you

Sir O Twi Mass, art advised of that?

Sav The age is cunning, sir, beside, a Dutchman will live upon any ground, and work butter out of a thistle

Sir O Twn Troth, thou say'st true in that, they're the best thrivers 180

In turnips, hartichalks, and cabbishes,

Our English are not like them

Sav O fie, no, sir!

D Boy Nimd aweigh de cack

Sav What, what? I cannot blame him then

Sir O Twi What says he to thee?

Sav The poor boy blushes for him he tells me his father came from making merry with certain of his countiymen, and he's a little steeped in English beer, there's no heed to be taken of his tongue now

Sir O Twn Hoyday! how com'st thou by all this?
I heard him

Speak but three words to thee

Sav O sir, the Dutch is a very wide language, you shall have ten English words even for one, as, for example, gullder goose—there's a word for you, master!

Sir O Twi Why, what's that same gullder goose?

Sav How do you and all your generation?

Sir O Twi Why, 'tis impossible! how prove you that, sir?

Sav 'Tis thus distinguished, sir gull, how do you, der, and, goose, your generation 201

Sir O Twi 'Tis a most saucy language, how cam'st thou by't?

Sav I was brought up to London in an eel ship, There was the place I caught it first by the tail— I shall be tript anon, pox, would I were gone!—

[Aside

I'll go seek out your son, sir, you shall hear
What thunder he'll bring with him

Sir O Twi Do, do, Savourwit,

I'll have you all face to face

Sav Cuds me, what else, sir?—

And you take me so near the net again,

I'll give you leave to squat me, I've scap'd fairly

We're undone in Dutch, all our three months' roguery

Is now come over in a butter firkin

[Aside, and exit

Sir O Twi Never was man so tost between two tales!

I know not which to take, nor which to trust,
The boy here is the likeliest to tell truth,
Because the world's corruption is not yet
At full years in him, sure he cannot know
What deceit means, 'tis English yet to him
And when I think again, why should the father
Dissemble for no profit? he gets none,
Whate'er he hopes for, and I think he hopes not
The man's in a good case, being old and weary,
He dares not lean his arm on his son's shoulder,
For fear he lie i' the dirt, but must be rather Beholding to a stranger for his prop

A large Room in Weatherwise's House

Enter Weatherwise while Servants are setting out a table, and Pickadill loohing on

Wea So, set the table ready, the widow's i' the next room, looking upon my clock with the days and the months and the change of the moon, I'll fetch her in presently

[Exit

Pick She's not so mad to be fetched in with the moon, I warrant you a man must go roundlier to work with a widow, than to woo her with the hand of a dial, or stir up her blood with the striking part of a clock, I should ne'er stand to show her such things in chamber

[Exeunt Servants

Re-enter Weatherwise handing in Lady Goldenfleece, Sir Gilbert Lambstone, Pepperton, and Over DONE

Wea Welcome, sweet widow, to a bachelor's house here! a single man I, but for two or three maids that I keep

L Gold Why, are you double with them, then?

Wea An exceeding good mourning wit! women are wiser than ever they were, since they wore doublets You must think, sweet widow, if a man keep maids, they're under his subjection

L Gold That's most true, sir

Wea They have no reason to have a lock but the master must have a key to't 20

L Gold To him, sir Gilbert! he fights with me at a wrong weapon now

Wea Nay, and sir Gilbert strike, my weapon falls, I fear no thrust but his here are more shooters, But they have shot two arrows without heads, They cannot stick i' the butt yet hold out, knight, And I'll cleave the black pin in the midst o' the white 1

L Gold Nay, and he led me into a closet, sir, where he showed me diet drinks for several months, as scurvy grass for April, clarified whey for June, and the like 30

Sir G Lamb O, madam, he is a most necessary pro perty, an't be but to save our credit, ten pound in a banquet

L Gold Go, you're a wag, sir Gilbert

Sir G Lamb How many there be in the world of his fortunes, that prick their own calves with briars, to make an easy passage for others, or, like a toiling usurer, sets

His are the sweetmeats, but the kisses mine

[Kisses her

Over Excellent!—A pox a' your foitune! [Asside Pep Saucy courting has brought all modest wooing clean out of fashion you shall have few maids now adays got without rough handling, all the town's so used to't, and most commonly, too, they're joined before they're married, because they'll be sure to be fast enough

Over Sir, since he strives t' oppose himself against us,

Let's so combine our friendships in our straits, By all means graceful, to assist each other, For, I protest, it shall as much glad me To see your happiness, and his disgrace, As if the wealth were mine, the love, the place

Pep And with the like faith I reward your friendship, I'll break the bawdy ranks of his discourse,
And scatter his libidinous whispers straight —
Madam——

L Gold How cheer you, gentlemen?

Sir G Lamb Pox on 'em,

They wak'd me out of a fine sleep! three minutes

Wea If conceit will strike this stroke, have at the widow's plum tree ¹ I'll put 'em down all for a ban quet [Aside]—Widow and gentlemen, my friends and servants, I make you wait long here for a bachelor's pittance

L Gold O, sir, you're pleased to be modest Wea No, by my troth, widow, you shall find it other wise

[Music The banquet 2 is brought in, six of Weather

² Dessert Dyce quotes the following pissage from Gervase Mark ham's Figlish Housewife— '1 will now proceed to the ordering or setting forth of a Banquet, wherein you shall observe, that Marchpanes have the first place the middle place and last place your preserved fruits shall be dish d up first your pastes next your wet Suckets after them, then your dryed Suclets, then your Marmalades and Goodiniakes then your Comfets of all kindes. Next your Peares, Apples, Wardens back of raw or rosted, and your Orenges and Lemons sliced, and lastly, your Wafer cales. Thus you shall order them in the closet but when they goe to the Table, you shall first send forth a dish made for show only, as Beast Bird, Fish, Fowle, according to the invention then your Marchpane, then preserved futile then a Paste then a wet Sucket, then a dry Sucket, Marmalade Comfets Apples.

WISE'S Tenants carrying the Twelve Signs, Aries, Taurus, Gemini, Cancer, Leo, Virgo, Libra, Scorpio, Sagittarius, Capricorn, Aquarius, and Pisces, made of banqueting stuff

L Gold What, the Twelve Signs!

Wea These are the signs of my love, widow

L Gold Worse meat would have serv'd us, su, by my faith,

I'm sorry you should be at such charges, sir, 100
To feast us a whole month together here

Wea Widow, thou'rt welcome a whole month, and ever!

L Gold And what be those, sir, that brought in the banquet?

Wea Those are my tenants, they stand for fasting days

Sir G Lamb Or the six weeks in Lent Wea You're i' the right, sir Gilbert —

Sweet widow, take your place at Aries here, That's the head sign, a widow is the head

Till she be married [LADY GOLDENFLEECE sits

L Gold What is she then?

Wea The middle

L Gold 'Tis happy she's no worse

Wardens, Orenges and Lemons, sliced and then Wafers and another dish of preserved fruites, and so consequently all the rest before no two dishes of one kinde going or standing together and this will not onely appeare delicate to the eye but invite the appetite with the much variety thereof" (p 136, ed 1637)

Wea Taulus—sir Gilbert Lambstone, that's for you They say you're a good town bull

Sir G Lamb O, spare your friends, sir! [Sits

Wea And Gemini for master Pepperton,

He had two boys at once by his last wife

Pep I hear the widow find no fault with that, sir [Sits Wea Cancer, the crab, for master Overdone, For when a thing's past fifty, it grows crooked

OVERDONE sits

L Gold Now for yourself, sir

Wea Take no care for me, widow, I can be any where here's Leo, heart and back, Virgo, guts and belly,

I can go lower yet, and yet fare better, Since Sagittarius fits me the thighs, I care not if I be about the thighs, I shall find meat enough

Sits

L Gold But, under pardon, sir,
Though you be lord o' the feast and the conceit both,
Methinks it had been proper for the banquet

T' have had the signs all fill'd, and no one idle

Wea I know it had, but who's fault's that, widow? you should have got you more suitors to have stopt the gaps

L Gold Nay, sure, they should get us, and not we them

There be your tenants, sir, we are not proud, You may bid them sit down

Wea By the mass, it's true too!—Then sit down, tenants, once with your hats on, but spare the meat, I charge you, as you hope for new leases I must make my signs draw out a month yet, with a bit every morning to breakfast, and at full moon with a whole one, that's restorative sit round, sit round, and do not speak, sweet tenants, you may be bold enough, so you eat but little [Tenants sit]—How like you this now, widow?

And like the good old hospitable fashion

Pick How! like a good old hospital? my mistress makes an arrant gull on him

[Aside

L Gold But yet, methinks, there wants clothes for the feet

Wea That part's uncovered yet push, no matter for the feet

L Gold Yes, if the feet catch cold, the head will feel it
Wea Why, then, you may draw up your legs, and lie rounder together

Sir G Lamb Has answered you well, madam!

Wea And you draw up your legs too, widow, my tenant will feel you there, for he's one of the calves

L Gold Better and better, \sin , your wit fattens as he feeds

Pick Sh'as took the calf from his tenant, and put it upon his ground now

Wea How now, my lady's man? what's the news, sir?

Ser Madam, there's a young gentleman below

Has earnest business to your ladyship

Wea Another suitor, I hold my life, widow

L Gold What is he, sii?

Ser He seems a gentleman,

That's the least of him, and yet more I know not

L Gold Under the leave o' the master of the house here,

I would he were admitted

Wea With all my heart, widow, I fear him not,
Come cut and long tail 1 [Evit Servant

Sir G Lamb I have the least fear 167

And the most firmness, nothing can shake me [Aside

Wea If he be a gentleman, he's welcome there's a sign does nothing, and that's fit for a gentleman. The feet will be kept warm enough now for you, widow, for if he be a right gentleman, he has his stockings waimed, and he wears socks beside, partly for waimth, partly for cleanliness, and if he observe Fridays too, he comes excellent well. Pisces will be a fine fish dinner for him

L Gold Why, then, you mean, sir, he shall sit as he comes?

Wea Ay, and he were a lord, he shall not sit above my tenants, I'll not have two lords to them, so I may go look my rent in another man's breeches, I was not brought up to be so unmannerly

Re enter Pickadill carrying the sun cup, without his doublet, and with a reil over his face

Pick Your sun cup, call you it? 'tis a simple voyage that I have made here, I have left my doublet within, for fear I should sweat through my jerkin, and thrown a cypress 1 over my face, for fear of sun burning

Wea How now? who's this? why, sirrah!

Pick Can you endure it, mistress?

L Gold Endure what, fool?

Wea Fill the cup, coxcomb

259 Pick Nay, an't be no hotter, I'll go put on my doublet again

Wea What a whorson sot is this !- Prithee, fill the cup, fellow, and give't the widow

Mis Low Surah, how stand you?

Bestow your service there upon her ladyship

[Low water fills the cup and presents it to LADY GOLDENFLFECE

L Gold What's here? a sun?

Wea It does betoken, madam,

A cheerful day to somebody

L Gold It rises

Full in the face of yon 2 fair sign, and yet

By course he is the last must feel the heat

[Aside

Here, gentlemen, to you all,

For you know the sun must go through the Twelve [Drin/s Signs

Wea Look to the widow, she paints white — Some aqua cælestis for my lady! run, villain

Pick Aqua solister? can nobody help her case but a lawyer, and so many suitors here?

L Gold O treachery unmatch'd, unheard of!
Sir G Lamb How do you, madam?

L Gold O impudence as foul! does my disease 340
Ask how I do? can it torment my heart
And look with a fresh colour in my face?
Sir G Lamb What's this, what's this?
Wea I am sorry for this qualm, widow
L Gold He that would know a villain when he meets him.

Let him ne'er go to a conjuror, here's a glass
Will show him without money, and far truer—
Preserver of my state, pray, tell me, sir,
That I may pay you all my thanks together,
What blest hap brought that letter to your hand,
From me so fast lock'd in mine enemy's power

Mis Low I will resolve you, madam I've a kins

Somewhat infected with that wanton pity
Which men bestow on the distress of women,
Especially if they be fair and poor,
With such hot charity, which indeed is lust,
He sought t' entice, as his repentance told me,
Her whom you call your enemy, the wife
To a poor gentleman, one Low water———

Mis Low And, according to the common rate of sinners.

Offer'd large maintenance, which with her seem'd nothing,

For if she would consent, she told him roundly, There was a knight had bid more at one minute Than all his wealth could compass, and withal, Pluck'd out that letter, as it were in scorn, Which by good fortune he put up in jest, With promise that the writ should be returnable The next hour of his meeting But, sweet madam, Out of my love and zeal, I did so practise 370 The part upon him of an urgent wooer, That neither he nor that return'd more to her Sir G Lamb Plague a' that kinsman! Aside Wea Here's a gallant rascal! L Gold Sir, you've appear'd so noble in this action. So full of worth and goodness, that my thanks Will rather shame the bounty of my mind Than do it honour -O, thou treacherous villain, Does thy faith bear such fruit? Are these the blossoms of a hundred oaths Shot from thy bosom? was thy love so spiteful, 380 It could not be content to mock my heart, Which is in love a misery too much, But must extend so far to the quick ruin Of what was painfully got, carefully left me, And, 'mongst a world of yielding needy women, Choose no one to make merry with my sorrows, And spend my wealth on in adulterous surfeits, But my most mortal enemy! O, despiteful! Is this thy practice? follow it, 'twill advance thee, Go, beguile on Have I so happily found 390 What many a widow has with sorrow tasted,

Even when my lip touch'd the contracting cup, Even then to see the spider? 'twas miraculous! Crawl with thy poisons hence, and for thy sake

SCENE II

A Street

Enter SANDFIELD, PHILIP TWILIGHT, and SAVOURWIT

Phil If thou talk'st longer, I shall turn to maible, And death will stop my hearing

Sand Horrible fortune!

Sav Nay, su, our building is so fu defac'd, There is no stuff left to ruse up a hope

Phil O, with more patience could my flesh endure A score of wounds, and all their several searchings, Than this that thou hast told me!

Sav Would that Flemish ram
Had ne'er come near our house! there's no going home
As long as he has a nest there, and his young one,
A little Flanders egg new fledg'd they gape
To
For pork, and I shall be made meat for 'em

Phil 'Tis not the bare news of my mother's life—May she live long and happy!—that afflicts me With half the violence that the latter draws, Though in that news I have my share of grief, As I had share of sin and a foul neglect, It is my love's betraying, that's the sting That strikes through flesh and spirit, and sense nor wit From thee, in whom I ne'er saw ebb till now,

Nor comforts from a faithful friend can ease me, 20
I'll try the goodness of a third companion,
What he'll do for me [Drawing his sword]

Sand Hold! whv, friend-

Sav Why, master, is this all your kindness, sir? offer to steal into another country, and ne'er take your leave on's? troth, I take it unkindly at your hands, sir, but I'll put it up for once [Sheathing Philip's sword] Faith, there was no conscience in this, sir, leave me here to endure all weathers, whilst you make your soul dance like a juggler's egg upon the point of a rapier! By my troth, sir, you're to blame in't, you might have given us an inkling of your journey, perhaps others would as fain have gone as you

Phil Burns this clay lamp of miserable life, When joy, the oil that feeds it, is dried up?

Enter LADY TWILIGHT, BEVERIL, and Servants

L Twi He has remov'd his house

Bev So it seems, madam

L Twi I'll ask that gentleman —Pray, can you tell me, sir,

Which is sir Oliver Twilight's?

Phil Few can better, gentlewoman,

It is the next fair house your eye can fix on

L Twn I thank you, sir —Go on [Excunt Servants]
—He had a son

About some ten years since

Phil That son still lives

L Twi I pray, how does he, sir?

Phil Faith, much about my health,-that's never worse -Aside If you have any business to him, gentlewoman, I can cut short your journey to the house, I'm all that ever was of the same kind L Twi [cmbi acing him] O, my sweet son! never fell fresher 10y Upon the heart of mother !- This is he, sir Bev My seven years' travel has e'en worn him out Of my remembrance Sav O, this gear's worse and worse! Aside 50 Phil I am so wonder struck at your blest presence. That, through amaz'd joy, I neglect my duty L Two [raising him] Rise, and a thousand blessings spring up withthee! Sav I would we had but one in the meantime, Let the rest grow at lessure Aside L Twi But know you not this gentleman yet, son? Phil I take it's master Beveril Bev My name's Beveril, sir Phil Right welcome to my bosom! [Embracing him L Twi You'd not think, son, How much I am beholding to this gentleman, As fir as freedom, he laid out the lansom, бo Finding me so distress'd Phil 'Twas worthily done, sir, And I shall ever rest your servant for't Bev You quite forget your worth 'twas my good hap,

To return home that way, after some travels,

Where, finding your good mother so distress'd, I could not but in pity see her releas'd Phil It was a noble charity, sir, heaven quit 1 you ! Aside Sav It comes at last! Bev I left a sister here, New married when I last took leave of England Phil O, mistress Low water Bev Pray, sir how does sne? 70 Phil So little comfort I can give you, sir, That I would fain excuse myself for silence Bev Why, what's the worst, sir? Phil Wrongs has made her poor Bec You strike my heart alas, good gentlewoman ! Phil Here's a gentleman-You know him—master Sandfield—— Bev I crave pardon, sir Ph 1 He can resolve you from her kinswoman Sand Welcome to England, madam! L Twi Thanks, good sir Phil Now there's no way to 'scape, I'm compass'd round My shame is like a prisoner set with halbeids 80 Sav Pish, master, master, 'tis young flood again, And you can take your time now, away, quick! Phil Push, thou'st a swimming head Sav Will you but hear me?

When did you lose your tide when I set forth with you?

Phil That's true

¹ Requite

Sav Regard me then, though you've no feeling,
I would not hang by the thumbs with a good will Plul I hang by th' heart, sir, and would fain have ease

Sav Then this or none fly to your mother's pity,
For that's the court must help you, you're quite gone
At common law, no counsellor can hear you,
Gonfess your follies, and ask pardon for 'em,
Tell her the state of all things, stand not nicely,
The meat's too hard
To be minc'd now, she breeds young bones by this time,
Deal plainly, heaven will bless thee, turn out all,
And shake your pockets after it, beg, weep,
Kneel, anything, it will break no bones, man
Let her not rest, take breathing time, nor leave thee,
Fill thou hast got her help

Phil Lad, I conceive thee

100

Sav About it, then, it requires haste—do't well, There's but a short street between us and hell

Bev Ah, my poor sister!

L Twn 'Las, good gentlewoman!

My heart even weeps for her —Ay, son, we'll go now

Phil May I crave one word, madam?

[Shogs 1 his Mother

L Twn With me, son?
The more, the better welcome
Sav Now, now, luck!
I pray not often, the last prayer I made

Was nine year old last Bartholomew tide, 'twould have been

A jolly chopper and 't had liv'd till this time

L Two Why do your words start back? are they afiaid

Of her that ever lov'd them?

Phil I've a suit to you, madam

L Two You've told me that already, pray, what is't? If't be so great, my present state refuse it, I shall be able, then command and use it,

Whate'er 't be, let me have warning, to provide for't

Phil [Lincels] Provide forgiveness then, for that's the want

My conscience feels O, my wild youth has led me Into unnatural wrongs against your fieedom once! I spent the ransom which my father sent,

To set my pleasures free, while you lay captive Sate He does it finely, faith

120 [Asıde

L Tan And is this all now?

You use me like a stranger, pray, stand up

Phil Rather fall flat, I snall deserve yet worse

L Two [.assing Philip] Whate'er your faults are, esteem me still a filend,

Or else you wrong me more in asking pardon Than when you did the wrong you ask'd it for,

And since you have prepar'd me to forgive you,

Pray, let me know for wnat, the first fault's nothing

Sav 'Tis a sweet lady every inch of her! [Aside

Phil Here comes the wrong then that drives home the rest r₃c

I saw a face at Antwerp that quite drew me From conscience and obedience, in that fray I lost my heart, I must needs lose my way, There went the ransom, to redeem my mind, 'Stead of the money, I brought over her, And to cast mists before my father's eyes. Told him it was my sister, lost so long, And that yourself was dead you see the wrong

L Twi This is but youthful still -O, that word sister Afflicts me when I think on't !—I forgive thee 140 As freely as thou didst it, for, alas, This may be call'd good dealing to 1 some parts That love and youth plays daily among sons Sav She helps our knavery well, that's one good comfort [Aside

Phil But such is the hard plight my state lives in, That 'twixt forgiveness I must sin again, And seek my help where I bestow'd my wrongs O mother, pity once, though against reason, 'Cause I can merit none, though my wrongs grieve ve.2' Yet let it be your glory to relieve me!

L Twn Wherein have I given cause yet of mistrust, That you should doubt my succour and my love? Show me but in what kind I may bestow 'em

Phil There came a Dutchman with report this day That you were living

L. Twi Came he so lately?

² Old ed you -but a rhyme was intended

Phil Yes, madam,

Which news so struck my father on the sudden,
That he grows jealous 1 of my faith in both
These five hours have I kept me from his sight,
And wish'd myself eternally so hid,
And surely, had not your blest presence quicken'd
The flame of life in me, all had gone out
Now, to confirm me to his trust again,
And settle much aright in his opinion,
Say but she is my sister, and all's well

L Two You ask devotion 2 like a bashful beggar, That pure need urges, and not lazy impudence, And to express how glad I am to pity you, My bounty shall flow over your demand, I will not only with a constant breath Approve 3 that, but excuse thee for my death Sav Why, here's

A woman made as a man would wish to have her!

170

Phil O, I am plac d higher in happiness Than whence I fell before!

Sav We're brave fellows once again, and we can keep our own

Now hoffie toffte, our pipes play as loftily!

Bev My sister fled!

¹ Suspicious

² *Compare the Communion Service, shall receive the alms for the the poor, and other devotions of the people in a decent basin'—Dyce

³ Prove, confirm

Sand Both fled, that's the news now want must obey,

Oppressions came so thick, they could not stay

Bev Mean are my fortunes, yet, had I been nigh, 180 Distress nor wrong should have made virtue fly

L Twi Spoke like a brother, worthy such a sister!

Bev Grief's like a new wound, heat begules the sense,

For I shall feel this smart more three days hence

Come, madam, sorrow's rude, and forgets manners

[Exeunt all except Savourwit

Sav Our knavery is for all the world like a shifting bankrupt, it breaks in one place, and sets up in another he tries all trades, from a goldsmith to a tobacco seller, we try all shifts, from an outlaw to a flatterer he cozens the husband, and compounds with the widow, we cozen my master, and compound with my mistiess only here I turn o' the right hand from him,—he is known to live like a rascal, when I am thought to live like a gentle man

A Room in Lady Goldenfleece's House

Enter Mistress Low-water and Low water, both disguised as before

Mis Low I've sent in one to the widow
Low Well said, Kate!
Thou ply'st thy business close, the coast is clear yet.

Mis Low Let me but have warning, I shall make pretty shift with them.
Low That thou shalt, wench

Enter Servant

Ser My lady, sir, commends her kindly to you,
And for the third part of an hour, sir,
Desires your patience,
Two or three of her tenants out of Kent
Will hold her so long busied
Mis Low Thank you, sir,
'Tis fit I should attend her time and leisure

[Exit Servant

10

Those were my tenants once, but what relief
Is there in what hath been, or what I was?
'Tree now that makes the man a last year's feast
Yields little comfort for the present humour,
He starves that feeds his hopes with what is past—

Re enter LOW WATER

How now?

Low They're come, newly alighted Mis Low Peace, peace!

I'll have a trick for 'em, look vou second me well now

Low I warrant thee

 $\it Mis\ Low\ I$ must seem very imperious, I can tell you, therefore, if I should chance to use you roughly, pray, forgive me beforehand

Low With all my heart, Kate

Mis Low You must look for no obedience in these 1 clothes, that lies in the pocket of my gown

Low Well, well, I will not, then

Mis Low I hear 'em coming, step back a little, sir [Low-water retires]—Where be those fellows?

Enter Weatherwise, Pepperton, and Overdone

Who looks out there? is there ne'er a knave i' th' house to take those gentlemen's horses? where wait you to day? how stand you, like a dreaming goose in a corner? the gentlemen's horses, forsooth!

Low Yes, an't like 2 your worship

[Exit

Pep What's here? a strange alteration!

Wea A new lord! would I were upon my maie's back again then!

Mis Low Pray, gentlemen, pardon the rudeness of these grooms,

I hope they will be brought to better fashion! In the meantime, you're welcome, gentlemen

All We thank you, sir

Wea Life, here's quick work! I'll hold my life, has struck the widow i' the right planet, Venus in cauda! I thought 'twas a lecherous planet that goes to't with a caudle

Mis Low How now, sir?

Low The gentlemen's horses are set up, sir

Pep No, no, no, we'll away

Wea We'll away

Mis Low How! by my faith, but you shall not yet, by your leave —Where's Bess?—Call your mistress, sir, to welcome these kind gentlemen, my friends 50

Exit Low water

Pep How! Bess?

Over Peg?

Wea Plain Bess? I know how the world goes then, he has been a-bed with Bess 'i'aith, there's no trust to these widows, a young horsing gentleman carries 'em away clear

Re enter LOW WATER

Mis Low Now, where's your mistress, sir? how chance she comes not?

Low Sir, she requests you to excuse her for a while, sne's busy with a milliner about gloves

Mis Low Gloves!

бо

IVea Hoyday! gloves too!

Mis Low Could she find no other time to choose gloves but now, when my friends are here?

Pep No, su, 'tis no matter, we thank you for your good will, sir to say truth, we have no business with her at all at this time, i'faith, sir

Mis Low O, that's another matter, yet stay, stay, gentlemen, and taste a cup of wine ere you go

Over No, thank you, sir

Mis Low Master Pepperton—master Weatherwise, will you, sir?

90

Wea I'll see the wine in a drunkard's shoes first, and drink't after he has brewed it But let her go, she's fitted, i'faith, a proud, surly sir here, he domineers already, one that will shake her bones, and go to dice with her money, or I have no skill in a calendar life, he that can be so saucy to call her Bess already, will call her prating quean a month hence

[Excunt Weatherwise, Pepperton, and Overdone

Low They've given thee all the slip

Mis Low So, a fair riddance!

There's three rubs gone, I've a clear way to the mistress 1 80

Low You'd need have a clear way, because you're a bad pricker

Mis Low Yet if my bowl take bank, I shall go nigh To make myself a saver,

Here's alley room enough, I'll try my fortune I'm to begin the world like a younger brother, I know that a bold face and a good spirit Is all the jointure he can make [a] widow, And 't shall go hard but I'll be as rich as he, Or at least seem so, and that's wealth enough For nothing kills a widow's heart so much As a faint, bashful wooer, though he have thousands, And come with a poor water gruel spirit

¹ The mistress in the game of bowls was the small ball (the jack) at which the players aimed Cf Tro and Cress in 2—

[&]quot;So, so, rub on and kiss the mistress"

And a fish market face, he shall ne'er speed, I would not have himself left a poor widower

Low Faith, I'm glad I'm alive to commend thee, Kate, I shall be sure now to see my commendations delivered

Mis Low I'll put her to't, i'faith

Low But soft ye, Kate,

How and she should accept of your bold kindness?

Mis Low A chief point to be thought on, by my faith!

Marry, therefore, sir, be you sure to step in,

For fear I should shame myself and spoil all

Low Well, I'll save your credit then for once, but look you come there no more

Mis Low Away! I hear her coming

Low I am vanish'd

Enter LADY GOLDENFLEECE

Mis Low How does my life, my soul, mv dear sweet madam?

L Gold I've wrong'd your patience, made you stand too long here

Mis Low There's no such thing, i'faith, madam, you're pleas'd to say so

L Gold Yes, I confess I was too slow, sir 110

Mis Low Why, you shall make me amends for that, then, with a quickness in your bed

L Gold That were a speedy mends, sir

Mis Low Why, then, you are out of my debt, I'll cross the book, and turn over a new leaf with you

L Gold So, with paying a small debt, I may chance run into a greater

Mrs. Low My faith, your credit will be the better then, there's many a brave gallant would be glad of such fortune, and pay use for't

L Gold Some of them have nothing else to do, they would be idle and 'twere not for interest

Mis Low I promise you, widow, were I a setter up, such is my opinion of your payment, I durst trust you with all the ware in my shop

L Gold I thank you for your good will, I can have no more

Mis Low Not of me, i'faith, nor that neither, and you knew 1 all [Aside]—Come, make but short ser vice, widow, a kiss and to bed, I'm very hungry, i'faith, wench

L Gold What, are you, sir?

Mis Low O, a younger brother has an excellent stomach, madam, worth a hundred of your sons and heirs, that stay their wedding stomachs with a hot bit of a common mistress, and then come to a widow's bed like a flash of lightning you're sure of the first of me, not of the five hundredth of them I never took physic yet in my life, you shall have the doctor continually with them, or some bottle for his deputy, out flies your moneys for restoratives and strengthenings, in me 'tis saved in your purse and found in your children they'll get peevish pothecaries' stuff, you may weigh 'em by th'

L Gold But soft ye, soft ye, because you stand so strictly

Upon your purity, I'll put you to't, sir,

Will you swear here you never yet knew woman?

Mis Low Never, as man e'er knew her, by this light, widow!

L Gold What, what, sir?—'Shrew my heart, he moves me much [Aside

Mis Low Nay, since you love to bring a man on's knees,

I take into the same oath thus much more, That you are the first widow, or maid, or wife,

That ever I in suit of love did court,

Or honestly did woo how say you to that, widow? 160

L Gold Marry, I say, sir, you had a good portion of chastity left you, though ill fortune run away with the rest

Mis Low That I kept for thee, widow, she's of fortune, and all her strait bodied daughters, thou shalt have't, widow

[Kissing her]

L Gold Push, what do you mean?

Mis Low I cannot bestow't better

L Gold I'll call my servants

L Gold What do you think of me? you're very for ward, sir!

Mis Low Extremity of love

L Gold You say you're ignorant,

It should not seem so surely by your play,

For aught I see, you may make one yourself, You need not hold the cards to any gamester ²

Mis Low That love should teach men ways to wrong itself!

L Gold Are these the first fruits of your boldness,

If all take after these, you may boast on 'em, There comes few such to market among women, Time you were taken down, sir—Within there!

Mis Low I've lost my way again

There's but two paths that leads to widows' beds,

That's wealth or forwardness, and I've took the wrong

Ser What['s] your worship['s] pleasure?

Mis Low O, this is something like — Take you your ease, sir,

Here are those now more fit to be commanded

Low How few women are of thy mind! she thinks it too much to keep me in subjection for one day, whereas some wives would be glad to keep their husbands in awe all days of their lives, and think it the best bargain that e'er they made

[Aside, and exit]

Mis Low I'll spare no cost for the wedding, some device too,

To show our thankfulness to wit and fortune, 220 It shall be so —Run straight for one o' the wits

¹ The basket or tray into which the fragments were swept at the close of a meal

Puck How? one o' the wits? I care not if I run on that account are they in town, think you?

Mis Low Whither runnest thou now?

Pick To an ordinary for one of the wits

Mis Low Why to an ordinary above a tavern?

Pick No, I hold your best wits to be at ordinary, nothing so good in a tavern

Mis Low And why, I pray, sir?

Pick Because those that go to an ordinary dine better for twelve pence than he that goes to a tavern for his five shillings, and I think those have the best wits that can save four shillings, and fare better too

Mrs Low So, sir, all your wit then runs upon victuals?

Pick 'Tis a sign 'twill hold out the longer then

Mis Low What were you saying to me?

Ser Please your worship,

I heard there came a scholar over lately scholar has brought over, a thin pair of parbreaking 1 sea water green chops, I warrant you Mis Low Since wit has pleasur'd me, I'll pleasure wit.

Scholars shall fare the better O my blessing ! I feel a hand of mercy lift me up Out of a world of waters, and now sets me Upon a mountain, where the sun plays most, To cheer my heart even as it dries my limbs

What deeps I see beneath me, in whose falls Many a nimble mortal toils,

And scarce can feed 2 himself! the streams of fortune, 'Gainst which he tugs in vain, still beat him down, And will not suffer him—past hand to mouth— To lift his arm to his posterity's blessing I see a careful sweat run in a ring

About his temples, but all will not do, For, till some happy means relieve his state, There he must stick, and bide the wrath of fate I see this wrath upon an uphill land,

O blest are they can see their falls and stand!

Mis Low Your love, your love, sir,
We go no higher, not shall you go lower
Sir, I am bold to send for you, to request
A kindness from your wit, for some device
To grace our wedding, it shall be worth your pains,
And something more t'express my love to art,
You shall not receive all in bare embracements

 $\ensuremath{\textit{Bev}}\xspace$ Your love I thank , but, pray, sir, pardon me, I've a heart says I must not grant you that

Mis Low No! what's your reason, sir?

Bev I'm not at peace

With the lady of this house, now you'll excuse me, Sh'as wrong'd my sister, and I may not do't

² Old ed "suffer"

Mrs Low The widow knows you not

Bev I never saw her face to my remembrance O that my heart should feel her wrongs so much,

And yet live ignorant of the injurer!

Mis Low Let me persuade thee, since she knows you not,

Make clear the weather, let not guess betray you, I'll tell her you're a worthy friend of mine, And so I tell her true, thou art indeed Sir, here she comes

Re enter LADY GOLDENFLEECE

L Gold What, are you busy, sir?

Mis Low Nothing less, lady, here's a gentleman 300 Of noble parts, beside his friendship to me,

Pray, give him liberal welcome

L Gold He's most welcome

Mis Low The virtues of his mind will deserve largely L Gold Methinks his outward parts deserve as much then.

A proper 1 gentleman it is

Before LADY GOLDENFLEECE'S House

Enter Weatherwise, Pepperton, Overdone, and Sir Gilbert Lambstone

Wea Faith, sir Gilbert, forget and forgive, there's all our hands to a new bargain of friendship

Pep Ay, and all our hearts to boot, sir Gilbert

Wea Why, la, you, there's but four suitors left on's in all the world, and the fifth has the widow, if we should not be kind to one another, and so few on's i'faith, I would we were all raked up in some hole or other!

Sir G Lamb Pardon me, gentlemen, I cannot but remember

Your late disgraceful words before the widow, In time of my oppression

Wea Pooh, Saturn reigned then, a melancholy, grumbling planet, he was in the third house of privy enemies, and would have bewrayed all our plots, beside, there was a fiery conjunction in the Dragon's tail, that spoiled all that e'er we went about

Sir G Lamb Dragon or devil, somewhat 'twas, I'm sure

Wea Why, I tell you, sir Gilbert, we were all out of our wits in't, I was so mad at that time myself, I could have wished an hind quarter of my Bull out of your belly again, whereas now I care not if you had eat tail and all, I am no niggard in the way of friendship, I was ever yet at full moon in good fellowship, and so you shall find, if you look into the almanac of my true nature

Sir G Lamb Well, alls for once for once, hands apace, gentlemen

IVia Ye shall have two of mine to do you a kind ness, yet, when they re both abroad, who shall look to th' house here?

[Giving his hands to Sir G LAMESTONE

[Giving their hands to Sir G LAMBSTONE

Sir G Lamb But upon this condition, gentiemen, 30 You shall hear now a thing worth your revenge

Wea And you doubt that,

You shall have mine beforehand, I've one ready,

I never go without a black oath about me

Sir G Lamb I know the least touch of a spur in this Will now put your desires to a false gallop,

By all means slanderous in every place, And in all companies, to disgrace the widow,

No matter in what rank, so it be spiteful

And worthy your revenges so now I,

It shall be all my study, care, and pains,
And we can lose no labour, all her foes
Will make such use on't, that they'll snatch it from us
Faster than we can forge it, though we keep Four tongues at work upon't, and never cease
Then for th' indifferent world, faith, they are apter
To bid a slander 1 welcome than a truth
We have the odds of our side this in time
May grow so general, as disgrace will spread,
That wild dissension may divide the bed

Over A pure revenge! I see no dregs in't Sir G Lamb Let each man look to his part now, and not feed

Upon one dish all four on's, like plain maltmen, For at this feast we must have several kickshaws. And delicate made dishes, that the world May see it is a banquet finely furnish'd

Wea Why, then, let me alone for one of your kick shaws.

I've thought on that already

Sir G Lamb Prithee, how, sir?

Wea Marry, sir, I'll give it out abroad that I have

"Revenge and Death
Like slander attend the slaves of Calymath" where slander is evidently a misprint for slaves I have, of course, cor rected the misprint in my edition of Day

¹ Dyce's correction for old ed's slave In his Addenda he compares The Travels of the Three English Brothers (by Day, Dr Rowley and Wilkins), 1607 sig C 4,— lain with the widow myself, as 'tis the fashion of many a gallant to disgrace his new mistress when he cannot have his will of her, and lie with her name in every tavern, though he ne'er came within a yard of her person, so I, being a gentleman, may say as much in that kind as a gallant, I am as free by my father's copy

65

Sir G Lamb This will do excellent, sir

IVea And, moreover, I ll give the world thus much to understand beside, that if I had not lain with the widow in the wane of the moon, at one of my Seven Stars' houses, when Venus was about business of her own, and could give no attendance, she had been brought a bed with two roaring boys by this time, and the Geinini being infants, I'd have made away with them like a step mother, and put mine own boys in their places

Sir G Lamb Why, this is beyond talk, you outrun your master

Enter PICKADILL

Pick Whoop' draw home next time, here are all the old shooters that have lost the game at pricks! What a fair mark had sir Gibert on't, if he had shot home before the last arrow came in! methinks these show to me now, for all the world, like so many lousy beggars turned out of my lady's barn, and have ne'er a hole to put their heads in

[Aside

Wea Mass, here's her ladyship's ass, he tells us any thing 84

Sir G Lamb Ho, Pickadill!

Pick What, sir Gilbert Lambstone! Gentlemen, outlaws all, how do you do?

Sir G Lamb How! what dost call us? how goes the world at home, lad?

What strange news?

Pick This is the state of prodigals as right as can be, when they have spent all their means on brave feasts, they're glad to scrape to a serving man for a meal's meat So you that whilom, like four prodigal rivals, 92 Could goose or capon, crane or woodcock choose, Now're glad to make up a poor meal with news, A lamentable hearing!

Wea He's in passion 1
Up to the evebrows for us

Pick O master Weatherwise, I blame none but you! You're a gentleman deeply read in Pond's 2 Almanac, Methinks you should not be such a shallow fellow, You knew this day, the twelfth of June, would come, 100 When the sun enters into the Crab's room, And all your hopes would go aside, aside 3

Wea The fool says true, i'faith, gentlemen, I knew 'twould come all to this pass, I'll show't you presently

[Takes out almanac

Pick If you had spar'd but four of your Twelve Signs now,

¹ Sorrow

² In the British Museum there is a series of Pond's Almanacs ranging from 1607 to 1638 Hazlitt (Bibl Coll 2d ser) mentions A New Almanacke and Prognostication by Pond for 1601

Pick No, nor good red herring, and vou look again 110

Wea [reads] Sixth day privily privented

Pick Marry, faugh!

IVea [reads] Seventh day, shrunk in the acting

Picl Nay, so will the best ware bought for love or money

Wea [reads] The eighth day, over head and cars

Prek By mv faith, he come[s] home in a sweet pickle then!

Wea [reads] The ninth day, scarce sound at heart

Pick What a pox ailed it?

IVea [reads] The tenth day, a court ers welcome

Pul That's a cup of beer, and you can get it 120

IVea [reads] The eleventh day, stones against the wind

Puck Pox of an ass! he might have thrown 'em better

Wea Now the twelfth day, gentlemen, that was our day, [Reads

Past all redemption

Pich Then the devil go with't!

Wea Now you see plainly, gentlemen, how we're us'd,

The calendar will not lie for no man's pleasure

Sir G Lamb Push, you're too confident in almanac posies

Pep Faith, so said we Sir G Lamb They're mere delusions Wea How!

You see how knavishly they happen, sir

Sir G Lamb Ay, that's because they're foolishly believ'd, 1 sir 130

Wea Well, take your courses, gentlemen, without 'em, and see what will come on't you may wander like masterless men, there's ne'er a planet will care a halfpenny for you, if they look after you, I'll be hanged, when you scorn to bestow twopence to look after them

Sir G Lamb How, a device at the wedding, sayest thou?

Pick Why, have none of you heard of that, yet?

Sir G Lamb 'Tis the first news, i'faith, lad

Pick O, there's a brave travelling scholar entertained into the house a' purpose, one that has been all the world over, and some part of Jerusalem, has his chamber, his diet, and three candles ² allowed him after supper

Wea By my faith, he need not complain for victuals then, whate'er he be

Pick He lies in one of the best chambers i'th' house, bravely matted, and to warm his wits as much, a cup of sack and an aqua vitæ bottle stands just at his elbow

Wea He's shrewdly hurt, by my faitn, if he catch an ague of that fashion, I'll be hanged

Pick He'll come abroad anon

Sir G Lamb Art sure on't?

Pick Why, he ne'er stays a quarter of an hour in the house together

Sir G Lamb No? how can he study then?

Puck Faugh, best of all, he talks as he goes, and writes as he runs, besides, you know 'tis death to a traveller to stand long in one place

Sir G Lamb It may hit right, boys '—Honest Picka dill,

Thou wast wont to love me

Pick I'd good cause, sir, then

Sir G Lamb Thou shalt have the same still, take that [Gwing money]

Pick Will you believe me now? I ne'en loved you better in my life then I do at this present

Sir G Lamb Tell me now truly, who are the presenters?

What parsons 1 are employed in the device?

Pick Parsons? not any, sir, my mistress will not be at the charge, she keeps none but an old Welsh vicar

Sir G Lamb Prithee, I mean, who be the speakers?

Pick Troth, I know none but those that open their mouths Here he comes now himself, you may ask him

Enter BEVERIL

Wea Is this he? by my faith, one may pick a gentleman out of his calves and a scholar out on's cheeks, one may see by his looks what's in him. I warrant you there has ne'er a new almanac come out these dozen years, but he has studied it over and over.

[Aside]

Sir G Lamb Do not reveal us now

181

Pick Because you shall be sure on't, you have given me a ninepence here, and I'll give you the slip 1 for't

Sir G Lamb Well said [Exit Pickadill]—Now the fool's pleased, we may be bold

Bev Love is as great an enemy to wit
As ignorance to art, I find my powers
So much employ'd in business of my heart,
That all the time's too little to despatch
Affairs within me Fortune, too remiss,
I suffer for thy slowness had I come
Before a vow had chain'd their souls together,
There might have been some hope, though ne'er so little,

Now there's no spark at all, nor e'er can be,
But dreadful ones struck from adultery,
And if my lust were smother'd with her will,
O, who could wrong a gentleman so kind,
A stranger made up with a brother's mind ! [Aside

Sir G Lamb Peace, peace, enough, let me alone to manage it —

A quick invention, and a happy one, 200 Reward your study, sir! Bev Gentlemen, I thank you Sir G Lamb We understand your wits are in employment, sir. In honour of this wedding Bev Sir, the gentleman To whom that worthy lady is betroth'd Vouchsafes t' accept the power of my good will in't Sir G Lamb I pray, resolve us then, sir—for we're friends That love and honour her-Whether your number be yet full, or no, Of those which you make choice of for presenters? Bev First, 'tis so brief, because the time is so, 210 We shall not trouble many, and for those We shall employ, the house will yield in servants Sir G Lamb Nay, then, under your leave and favour, sır.

Since all your pains will be so weakly grac'd,
And, wanting due performance, lose their lustre,
Here are four of us gentlemen, her friends,
Both lovers of her honour and your art,
That would be glad so to express ourselves,
And think our service well and worthily plac'd

Bev My thanks do me no grace for this large kindness,
You make my labours proud of such presenters

221

Sir G Lamb She shall not think, sir, she's so ill belov'd,

But friends can quickly make that number perfect

Bev She's bound t' acknowledge it Sir G Lamb Only thus much, sir, Which will amaze her most, I'd have't so carried, As you can do't, that neither she nor none Should know what friends we were till all were done Wea Ay, that would make the sport!

Bev I like it well, sir

My hand and faith amongst you, gentlemen, It shall be so dispos'd of

Sir G Lamb We're the men then

230

Bev Then look you, gentlemen, the device is single. Naked, and plain, because the time's so short, And gives no freedom to a wealthier sport, 'Tis only, gentlemen, the four elements In liveliest forms, Earth, Water, Air, and Fire

Wea Mass, and here's four of us too

Bev It fits well, sir

This the effect.—that whereas all those four Maintain a natural opposition And untruc'd 1 war the one against the other,

To shame their ancient envies, they should see How well in two breasts all these do agree

240

Wea That's in the bride and bridegroom, I am quick, sir

Sir G Lamb In faith, it's pretty, sir, I approve it

Bev But see how soon my happiness and your kindness Is crost together!

Sir G Lamb Crost? I hope not so, sir

Bev I can employ but two of you

Pep How comes that, sir?

Bev Air and the Fire should be by me[n] presented, But the two other in the forms of women

Wea Nav, then, we're gone again, I think these women

Were made to vex and trouble us in all shapes [Aside Sir G Lamb Faith, sii, you stand too nicely 1 Wea So think I, sii 251

Bev Yet, when we tax ourselves, it may the better Set off our errors, when the fine eyes judge 'em,

But Water certainly should be a woman

Wea By my faith, then, he is gelded since I saw him last, he was thought to be a man once, when he got his wife with child before he was married

Bev Fie, you are fishing in another stream, sir

IVea But now I come to vours, and you go to that, sir, I see no reason then but Fire and Water should change shapes and genders 261

Bev How prove you that, sir?

Wea Why, there's no reason but Water should be a man, because Fire is commonly known to be a quean

Bev So, sir, you argue well

Wea Nay, more, sir, water will break in at a little crevice, so will a man, if he be not kept out, water will undermine, so will an informer, water will ebb and flow, so will a gentleman, water will search any place, and so will a constable, as lately he did at my Seven Stars for a young wench that was stole, water will quench fire, and so will Wat the barber ergo, let Water wear a codpiece-point

¹ Scrupulously

Bev Faith, gentlemen, I like your company well

Wea Let's see who'll dispute with me at the full o' the moon!

Bev No, sir, and you be vain glorious of your talent, I'll put you to't once more

Wea I'm for you, sir, as long as the moon keeps in this quarter

Bev Well, how answer you this then? earth and water are both bearers, therefore they should be women

Wea Why, so are porters and pedlars, and yet they are known to be men 283

Bev I'll give you over in time, sir, I shall repent the bestowing on't else

Wea If I, that have proceeded 2 in five and twenty such books of astronomy, should not be able to put down a scholar now in one thousand six hundred thirty and eight, the dominical letter being G, I stood for a goose

Sir G Lamb Then this will satisfy you, though that be a woman,

Oceanus the sea, that's chief of waters,

He wears the form of a man, and so may you

Bev Now I hear reason, and I may consent

Sir G Lamb And so, though earth challenge a feminine face,

The matter of which earth consists, that's dust, The general soul of earth is of both kinds

Bev Fit yourselves, gentlemen, I've enough for me, Earth, Water, Air, and Fire, part 'em amongst you

Wea Let me play Air, I was my father's eldest son 300

Bev Ay, but this Air never possess'd the lands

Wea I'm but disposed to jest with you, sir, 'tis the same my almanac speaks on, is't not?

Bes That 'tis, sir

Wea Then leave it to my discretion, to fit both the part and the person

Bev You shall have your desire, sir

Su G Lamb We'll agree

Without your trouble now, sir, we're not factious, Or envy one another for best parts,

Like quarrelling actors that have passionate fits,
We submit always to the writer's wits

Bev He that commends you may do't liberally, For you deserve as much as praise can show

Sir G Lamb We'll send to you privately

Bev I'll despatch you
Sir G Lamb We'll poison your device

Aside, and exit

Pep She must have pleasures, Shows, and conceits, and we disgraceful doom

Aside, and exit

'Twill set off all my labours far more pleasing Before the widow, whom my heart calls mistress, But my tongue dares not second it

Low How say you now, Kate?

A Room in Sir Oliver Twilight's House

Enter Sir Oliver Twilight, Lady Twilight, Sinset, Sandfield, Dutch Merchant, Philip Twilight, Servants, and Savourwit aloof off 1

Sir O Two O my reviving joy! thy quickening presence

Makes the sad night of threescore and ten years Sit like a youthful spring upon my blood I cannot make thy welcome nich enough With all the wealth of words!

L Twn It is exprest, sir,

With more than can be equall'd, the ill store Lies only on my side, my thanks are poor

Sir O Twi Blest be the goodness of his mind for ever

10

That did redeem thy life, may it return
Upon his fortunes double! that worthy gentleman,

Kind master Beveril! shower upon him, heaven,
Some unexpected happiness to requite him
For that my joy! unlook'd for! O, more kind,
And juster far, is a mere stranger's goodness
Than the sophistic faith of natural sons!
Here's one could juggle with me, take up the ransom,
He and his loose companion—

Sav Say you me so, sir?

I'll eat hard eggs for that trick

Aside

30

Sir O Twi Spend the money,

And bring me home false news and empty pockets!

In that young gallant's tongue there, you were dead

Ten weeks before this day, had not this merchant

Brought first the truth in words, yourself in substance

L Twn Pray, let me stay you here, ere you proceed, sir.

Did he report me dead, say vou?

Sir O Twi Else you live not

L Twn See now, sir, you may lay your blame too rashly,

When nobody look'd after it? let me tell you, sir! A father's anger should take great advice,
Ere it condemn flesh of so dear a price
He's no way guilty yet, for that report
The general tongue of all the country spread,
For being remov'd far off, I was thought dead

Phil Can my faith now be taken into favour, sir? Is't worthy to be trusted?

Sav No, by my troth, 1s't not,

'Twould make shift to spend another ransom yet [Aside

Sir O Two Well, sir, I must confess you've here dealt well with me,

And what is good in you I love again

Sav Now am I half-ways in, just to the girdle,

But the worst part's behind

Aside

Sir O Twi Marry, I fear me, sir,

This weather is too glorious to hold long

L Twi I see no cloud to interpose it, sir, 40

If you place confidence in what I've told you

Sir O Twn Nay, 'tis clear sky on that side, would 'twere so

All over his obedience! I see that,

And so does this good gentleman-

L Twi Do you, sir?

Sir O Twi That makes his honesty doubtful

L Twi I pray, speak, sir,

The truth of your last kindness makes me bold with you

D Mer The knight, your husband, madam, can best speak.

He trueliest can show griefs whose heart they break

L Twi I'm sorry yet for more, pray, let me know't, sir,

That I may help to chide him, though 'twould grieve me 50

Sir O Tww Why then prepare for't, you came over

In the best time to do't you could pick out

[Aside

Not only spent my money, but, to blind me,
He and his wicked instrument——
Sav Now he fiddles me !

Sir O Twi Brings home a minion here, by great chance known,

Told me she was his sister, she proves none

L Twi This was unkindly done, sir, now I'm sorry My good opinion lost itself upon you, You are not the same son I left behind me, More grace took him —O, let me end in time, 60 For fear I should forget myself, and chide him!— Where is [s]he, sir? though he beguil'd your eyes, He cannot deceive mine, we're now too hard for him, For since our first unfortunate separation

[Aside

By many a happy accident, many a one, But never durst acknowledge her for mine own, And therein stood my joys distress'd again

I've often seen the girl—would that were true!—

Sir O Twn You rehearse miseries, wife —Call the maid down [East Servant

Sav Sh'as been too often down to be now call'd so, She'll he down shortly, and call somebody up [Aside

L Two He's now to deal with one, sir, that knows truth,

He must be sham'd or quit, there's no mean saves him Sir O Twi I hear her come

L Twn [aside to Phil] You see how hard 'tis now To redeem good opinion, being once gone, Be careful then, and keep it when 'tis won

Now see me take a poison with great joy, Which, but for thy sake, I should swoon to touch

Enter GRACE

Grace What new affliction? am I set to sale,

For any one that bids most sname for me?

[Aside
Sir O Twi Look you! do you see what stuff they've brought me home here?

81

L Two O bless her, eternal powers my life, my comforts,

My nine years' grief, but everlasting joy now!

Thrice welcome to my heart ' [embracing Grace] 'us she indeed

Sir O Twi What, is it?

Phil I'm unfit to carry a ransom!

Sav [aside to GRACE, who I niels] Down on your knees, to save your belly harmless,

Ask blessing, though you never mean to use it, But give t away presently to a beggar wench

Phil My faith is blemisn'd, I'm no man of trust, sir!

L Twi [raising Grace] Rise with a mother's bless ing!

Sav All this while

90

Sh'as rise with a son's

[Aside

Sir O Twn But soft ye, soft ye, wife!

I pray, take heed you place your blessing right now,
This honest Dutchman here told me he saw her

At Antwerp in an inn

L Twn True, she was so, sir

D Mer Sir, 'tis my quality, what I speak once,

110

I affirm ever, in that inn I saw her, That lets 1 her not to be your daughter now Sir O Twi O, sir, is't come to that! Sun Here's joys ne'er dreamt on! Sir O Twi O master Sunset, I am at the rising Of my refulgent happiness !—Now, son Sandfield, 100 Once more and ever !

Sand I am proud on't, sir

Sir O Twi Pardon me, boy, I've wronged thy faith too much

Sav Now may I leave my shell, and peep my head forth Aside, and advancing

Sir O Twi Where is this Savourwit, that honest whorson,

That I may take my curse from his knave's shoulders?

Sav O, sir, I feel you at my very blade here! Your curse is ten stone weight, and a pound over

Sir O Twi Come, thou'rt a witty varlet and a trusty

Sav You shall still find me a poor, faithful fellow.

If you've another ransom to send over, Or daughter to find out

Sir O Iwi I'll do thee right, boy,

I ne'er yet knew thee but speak honest English,

Marry, in Dutch I found thee a knave lately

Sav That was to hold you but in play a little, Till farther truths came over, and I strong, You shall ne'er find me a knave in mine own tongue,

¹ Hinders

I've more grace in me, I go out of England still
When I take such courses, that shows modesty, sir
Sir O Twi Anything full of wit and void of harm,
I give thee pardon for, so was that now
Sav Faith, now I'm quit, I find myself the nimbler
To serve you so again, and my will's good,
Like one that lately shook off his old irons,
And cuts a purse at bench to deserve new ones

Sir O Two Since it holds all the way so fortunate still.

And strikes so even with my first belief,
This is the gentleman, wife, young master Sandfield here,

A man of worthy parts, besides his lands, Whom I make choice of for my daughter's bed

Sav But he'll make choice there of another bedfellow [Aside 130

L Two I wish 'em both the happiness of love, sir

Sir O Twn 'Twas spoke like a good lady! And your memory

Can reach it, wife—but 'tis so long ago too— Old master Sunset he had a young daughter When you unluckily left England so, And much about the age of our girl there, For both were nurs'd together

L Twi 'Tis so fresh

In my remembrance, now you've waken'd it, As if twelve years were but a twelve hours' dream

¹ Acquitted

Str O Twn That girl is now a proper 1 gentlewoman, As fine a body, wife, as e'er was measur'd
With an indenture cut in farthing steaks

Sun O say not so, sir Oliver, you shall pardon me, sir,

I'faith, sir, you're to blame

Sir O Twi Sings, dances, plays,

Touches an instrument with a motherly grace

Sun 'Tis your own daughter that you mean that by Sav There's open Dutch indeed, and he could take it [Aside

Sir O Twi This wench, under your leave-

Sun You have my love in't

Sir O Twi Is my son's wife that shall be

Sav Thus, I'd hold with't,

Is your son's wife that should be master Sandfield's 150 [Assate

L Twn I come in happy time to a feast of marriages

Str O Twn And now you put's i' the mind, the hour draws on

At the new married widow's, there we're look'd for, There will be entertainments, sports, and banquets, There these young lovers shall clap hands together, The seed of one feast shall bring forth another

Sun Well said, sir Oliver!

Sir O Twi You're a stranger, sir,

Your welcome will be best

D Mer Good sir, excuse me

¹ Handsome

Sir O Twn You shall along, I'faith, you must not refuse me

[Exeunt all except Lady Twilight, Grace, Philip Twilight, and Savourwit

Phil O mother, these new joys, that sets my soul up—

Which had no means, nor any hope of any—Has brought me now so far in debt to you, I know not which way to begin to thank you, I am so lost in all, I cannot guess Which of the two my service most constrains, Your last kind goodness, or your first dear pains

L Tun Love is a mother's duty to a son,

As a son's duty is both love and fear

Sav I owe you a poor life, madam, that's all,

Pray, call for't when you please, it shall be ready for you 170

L Twn No? with whom were you brought up then?

Grace With those, madam,

To whom, I've often heard, the enemy sold me

L Twn What's that?

Grace Too often have I heard this piteous story,

Of a distressed mother I had once,

Whose comfortable sight I lost at sea,

But then the years of childhood took from me

Both the remembrance of her and the sorrows

L Twn O, I begin to feel her in my blood!

My heart leaps to be at her [Aside]—What was that

Grace Some said, an English lady, but I know not

L Twi What's thy name?

Should take a greater height than mine aspires

L Twn No? now you shall confess it this shall quit thee From all fears present, or hereafter doubts,

About this business

Phil Give me that, sweet mother!

200

L Twn Here, take her then, and set thine arms a-work,

There needs no 'fection,1' 'tis indeed thy sister

Phil My sister!

Sav Cuds me, I feel the razor!

[Aside

L Two Why, how now, son? how comes a change so soon?

Phil O, I beseech you, mother, wound me anywhere But where you pointed last! that's present death, Devise some other miserable torment, Though ne'er so pitiless, and I'll run and meet it, Some way more merciful let your goodness think on, 210 May steal away my jovs, but save my soul I'll willingly restore back every one, Upon that mild condition, anything But what you spake last will be comfortable

L Two You're troubled with strange fits in England here.

And now 'tis known your sister, you're not pleased How should I show myself?

Phil Say 'tis not she

L Twi Shall I deny my daughter?

220

Phil O, you kill me,

Beyond all tortures !

L Two Why do you deal thus with me?

Phil She is my wife, I married her at Antwerp, I've known the way unto her bed these three months

Sav And that's too much by twelve weeks for a sister

[Aside

L Twn I understand you now, too soon, too plain!

Phul O mother, if you love my peace for ever,

Examine her again, find me not guilty!

L Two 'Tis now too late, her words make that too

Phil Her words? shall bare words overthrow a soul? A body is not cast away so lightly

How can you know 'tis she—let sense decide it— She then so young, and both so long divided?

L Twi She tells me the sad story

Phil Does that throw me?

Many a distress may have the face of yours,

That ne'er was kin to you

L Twi But, however, sir,

I trust you are not married

Phil Here's the witness,

And all the wealth I had with her, this ring,

That join'd our hearts together

Thou'st brought in evidence to o'eithrow thyself, Had no one word been spoke, only this shown, 'T'ad been enough to approv'd¹ her for mine own, See here, two letters that begun my name Before I knew thy father this I gave her, And, as a jewel, fasten'd to her ear

Grace Pardon me, mother, that you find it stray, I kept it till I gave my heart away

Phil O, to what mountain shall I take my flight, To hide the monster of my sin from sight!

Sav I'll to Wales presently, there's the best hills
To hide a poor knave in [Assde 250]

L Twn O heap not desperation upon guilt!

A large Room in Lady Goldenfleece's House

Several Servants discovered placing things in order, and Pickadill looking on

Pick Bestir your bones nimbly, you ponderous beef buttocked knaves, what a number of lazy hinds do I keep company withal! where's the flesh colour velvet cushion now for my lady's pease porridge tawny satin bum? You attendants upon revels!

First Ser You can prate and domineer well, because you have a privilege[d] place, but I'd fain see you set your hand to't

Pick O base bone pickers, I set my hand to't' when did vou e'er see a gentleman set his hand to anything, unless it were to a sheep-skin, and ieceive a hundred pound for his pains?

Sec Ser And afterward lie in the Counter for his pleasure

Pich Why, true, sir, 'tis for his pleasure indeed for, spite of all their teeths, he may lie i' th' Hole 2 when he list

Pick Hark! I must call you knave within, 'tis but staying somewhat the longer for't [Exeunt

Loud music Enter, arm in arm, Lady Goldenfleece richly dressed, and Mistress Low-water richly attired as a man, after them Sir Oliver Twilight, Sunset, and Dutch Merchant, after them Lady Twilight, Grace, and Jane, after them Philip Twilight, Sandfield, Savourwit, and Low water, disguised as before

Mis Low This fair assembly is most freely welcome Sir O Twi, $&c^1$ Thanks to you, good sir

Your freedom is a second feast to me

Mis Low How is't with my brother?

Low The fit holds him still,

Nay, love's more violent

Mis Low 'Las, poor gentleman!

I would he had my office without money!

If he should offer any, I'd refuse it

Low I have the letter ready,

He's worthy of a place knows 2 how to use it

Mis Low That's well said -

Come, ladies-gentlemen-Sir Oliver,

² Old ed "that knows

Good, seat yourselves shall we be found unreachest?

[They sai

What is you gentleman with the funeral face, there? Methinks that look does ill become a bride house

Sir O Tivi Who does your worship mean, sir? my son Philip?

I'm sure he had ne'er less reason to be sad — 40 Why are you sad, son Philip?

Phil How, sir, sad?

You shall not find it so, sir

Sav Take heed he do not, then You must beware how you carry your face in this company, as far as I can see, that young bridegroom has hawk's eyes, he'll go nigh to spell sister in your face, if your nose were but crooked enough to serve for an S, he'd find an eye presently, and then he has more light for the rest

Phil I'll learn then to dissemble

40

Sav Nay, and you be to learn that now, you'll ne'er sit in a branched 1 velvet gown as long as you live, you should have took that at nurse, before your mother weaned you, so do all those that prove great children and batten well Peace, here comes a scholar indeed, he has learnt it, I warrant you

Enter Beveril with a pasteboard

L Gold Kind sir, you're welcome, you take all the pains, sir

¹ Embroidered, figured Gifford's assertion (Gifford and Dyce's Ford, in 231) that branched means "with tuffs or tassels dependent from the shoulders" is clearly erroneous

Bev I wish they were but worthy of the grace
Of your fair presence and this choice assembly
Here is an abstract, madam, of what's shown,
Which I commend to your favour [Giving pasteboard
L Gold Thank you for't, sir 60
Bev I would I durst present my love as boldly!

[Aside
Mis Low My honest brother!
[Aside
L Gold Look thee here, sweetheart
Mis Low What's there, sweet madam?

Bev Music, and we're ready

After loud music for a while, a thing like a globe opens on one side of the stage, and flashes out fire, then Sir G LAMBSTONE, in the character of Fire, issues from it, with yellow hair and beard intermingled with streaks like wild flames, a three pointed fire in his hand, and, at the same time, Weatherwise, as Air, comes down, hanging by a cloud, with a coat made like an almanac, all the twelve moons set in it, and the four quarters, winter, spring, summer, and autumn, with change of weathers. rain, lightning, tempest, &c, and from under the stage, on different sides at the farther end, rise OVERDONE as Water and Pepperton as Earth, Water with green flags upon his head standing up instead of hair, and a beard of the same, with a chain of pearl, Earth with a number of little things resembling trees, like a thick grove, upon his head, and a wedge of gold in his hand, his garment

80 of a clay colour BEVERIL stands behind and gives Sir G LAMBSTONE the first words of his speech

Bev The flame of zeal-

Sir G Lamb The wicked fire of lust Does now spread heat through water, an, and dust Bev How! he's out in the beginning [Aside]—The wheel of time-

Wea The devil set fire o' the distaff Aszde Sir G Lamb I that was wont in elder times to pass For a bright angel—so they call'd me then— Now so corrupted with the upstart fires Of avarice, luxury, and inconstant heats, Struck from the bloods of cunning clap-faln daughters, Night walking wives, but, most, libidinous widows, That I, that purify even gold itself, Have the contemptable dross thrown in my face, And my bright name walk common in disgrace How am I us'd a' late, that I'm so handled,-Thrust into alleys, hospitals, and tubs! I was once a name of comfort, warm'd great houses, When charity was landlord, I've given welcome To forty russet yeomen at a time, In a fair Christmas hall How am I chang'd!

The chimneys are swept up, the hearth as cold As the forefathers' charity in the son, All the good, hospitable heat now turns To my young landlord's lust, and there it burns Rich widows, that were wont to choose by gravity Their second husbands, not by tricks of blood, Are now so taken with loose Aretine flames

Of numble wantonness and high fed pride,
They marry now but the third part of husbands,
Boys, smooth fac'd catamites, to fulfil their bed,
As if a woman should a woman wed
These are the fires a' late my brightness darks,
And fills the world so full of beggarly sparks

Boy Health how am I disgrac'd ly what requires

Bev Hea[r]t, how am I disgrac'd! what rogue should this be?

L Gold By my faith, monsieur Fire, you're a hot whoreson!

Mis Low I fear my brother is beside his wits, He would not be so senseless to rail thus else Asrae Wea After this heat, you madams fat and fair, 100 Open your casements wide, and take in air, But not that air false women make up oaths with, No, nor that air gallants perfume their clothes with, I am that air that I eeps about the clouds. None of my kindred was smelt out in crowds. Not any of our house was ever tainted, When many a thousand of our foes have fainted Yet some there are that be my chief polluters. Widows that falsify their faith to suitors, And will give fair words when the sign's in Cancer, 110 But, at the next remove, a scurvy answer, Come to the poor men's houses, eat their banquet, And at night with a boy tost in a blanket, Nay, shall I come more near? perhaps at noon. For here I find a spot full in the moon I know youth's trick what's she that can withstand it, When Mercury reigns, my lady's chamber planet?

He that believes a widow's words shall fail,

When Venus' gown skirts sweeps the Diagon's tail,

Fair weather the first day she makes to any,

The second cloudy, and the third day rainy,

The fourth day a great storm, lightning, and thunder,

A bolt strikes the suitor, a boy reeps her under

Bev 'Life, these are some counterfeit slaves crept in their rooms,

A' purpose for disgrace! they shall all share with me Heart, who the devil should these be? [Exit

L Gold My faith, gentlemen, Air has perfum'd the room well!

Sir O Twi So methinks, madam

Sav A man may smell her meaning two rooms off,
Though his nose wanted reparations,
And the bridge left at Shoreditch, as a pledge 130
For rosa solis, 1 in a bleaking-house 2 [Asade

Mis Low Life, what should be his meaning in't?

Low I wonder

Over Methinks this room should yet retain such heat, Struch out from the first ardour, and so glow yet, You should desire my company, wish for water, That offers here to serve your several pipes, Without constraint of mill or death of water house What if I sprinkled on the widow's cheeks A few cool drops, to lay the guilty heat That flashes from her conscience to her face, Would't not refresh her shame? From such as she

140

¹ There is a recipe for this tipple in Halliwell's Nares

² Bleaching house (brothel)

I first took weakness and inconstancy,
I sometimes swell above my banks and spread,
They're commonly with child before they're wed,
In me the Sirens sing before they play,
In her more witchcraft, for her smiles betray,
Where I'm least seen, there my most danger lies,
So in those parts hid most from a man's eyes,
Her heart, her love, or what may be more close,
I know no mercy, she thinks that no loss,
In her poor gallants, pirates thrive in me,
I help to cast away, and so does she 150

L Gold Nay, and you can hold nothing, sweet sir Water.

I'll wash my hands a' you ever hereafter

Pep Earth stands for a full point, me you should hire

To stop the gaps of Water, Air, and Fire I love much well, but your first husband better, Above his soul he lov'd it, as his end Did fearfully witness it, at his last gasp His spirit flant'd as it forsook his breast, And left the sparkles quarrelling bout his lips, Now of such metal the devil mokes him whips, He shall have gold enough to glut his soul, And as for earth, I'll stop his crane's throat full The wealth he left behind him, most men know, He wrung inconscionably from the rights Of poor men's livings, he drunk dry their brows, That liquor has a curse, yet nothing sweeter, When your posterity drinks, then'twill taste bitter

160

Sir G Lamb And now to vex, 'gainst nature, form, rule, place, 170

See once four warring 1 elements all embrace!

[The Elements embrace

Re enter, at several corners, BEVERIL with three other persons, attired like the four Winds, with wings, &-c, the South Wind having a great red face, the North Wind a pale, bleak one, the Western Wind one cheek red and another white, and so the Eastern Wind they dance to the drum and fife, while the four Elements seem to give back and stand in amaze at the end of the dance the Winds strip the Elements of their disguises, which seem to yield and almost fall off of themselves at the coming of the Winds Exeunt all the Winds except that represented by Beveril

L Gold How! sir Gilbert Lambstone! master Overdone!

All our old suitois! you've took pains, my masters!

Sir G Lamb We made a vow we'd speak our minds to you

Wea And I think we're as good as our words, though it cost some of our purses, I owe money for the clouds yet, I care not who knows it, the planets are sufficient enough to pay the painter, and I were dead

L Gold Who are you, sir?

Bev Your most unworthy servant

[Discovering himself

L Gold Pardon me, is't you, sir? 180

Bev My disgrace urg'd my wit to take some form,

Wherein I might both best and properliest

Discover my abusers and your own,

And show you some content,—before y'had none

L Gold Sir, I owe much both to your care and love, And you shall find your full requital worthy —
Was this the plot now your poor envy works out?
I do revenge myself with pitying on you —
Take Fire into the buttery, he has most need on't,
Give Water some small beer, too good for him,— 190
Air, you may walk abroad like a fortune-teller,—
But take down Earth, and make him drink i' the cellar

[Exeunt Sir G Lambstone, Wfatherwise,

Exeunt Sir G Lambstone, Wfatherwise, Overdone, and Pepperton, with Low water

Mis Low The best revenge that could be!

L Two I commend you, madam

Sir O Two I thought they were some such sneakers Sav The four suitors 1 and here was a mess of mad elements !

Mis Low Lights, more lights there ' where be these blue-coats?

Enter Servants with lights

L Gold You know your lodgings, gentlemen, to night

Sir O Twi 'Tis bounty makes bold guests, madam

Servants.

L Gold Good rest, lady

Sin O Twn A most contentful night begin a health, madam, 201

To your long joys, and may the years go round with't!

L Gold As many thanks as you have wish'd 'em hours, sir,

Take to your lodging with you

Mis Low A general rest to all

[Exeunt with Servants all the guests except PHILIP TWILIGHT and SAVOURWIT

Phil I'm excepted

Sav Take in another to you then, there's room enough

In that exception, faith, to serve us both,

The dial of my sleep goes by your eyes

[Exeunt Philip Twilight and Savourwit Scene closes 1

ACT V

The same

LADY GOLDENFLEECE and MISTRESS LOW WATER, disguised as before, are discovered

L Gold Now, like a greedy usurer alone, I sum up all the wealth this day has brought me, [Embracing her And thus I hug it

Mis Low Prithee-

L Gold Thus I kiss it

Kissing her

Mis Low I can't abide these kissings

I Gold How, sir? not!

I'll try that, sure, I'll kiss you out of that humour

Mis Low Push! by my troth, I cannot

L Gold What cannot you, sn?

Mis Low Not toy, nor bill, and imitate house pigeons,

A married man must think of other matters

L Gold How, other matters, sir? what other matters?

Mis Low Why, are there no other matters that belong to't? 10

Do you think you've married only a cock sparrow,

And fit but for one business, like a fool? You shall not find it so

L Gold You can talk strangely, sir Come, will you to bed?

Mis Low No, faith, will not I

L Gold What, not to bed, sir?

Mis Low And I do, hang me, not to bed with you

L Gold How, not to bed with me, sir? with whom else?

Mis Low Why, am not I enough to lie with myself?

L Gold Is that the end of marriage?

Mis Low No, by my faith,

'Tis but the beginning yet, death is the end on't, Unless some trick come i' the middle and dash all

L Gold Were you so forward lately, and so youthful, That scarce my modest strength could save me from you, And are you now so cold?

Mis Low I've thought on't since,
It was but a rude part in me, i'faith,
To offer such bold tricks to any woman,
And by degrees I shall well break myself from't,
I feel myself well chasten'd since that time,
And not the third part now so loosely minded
O, when one sees their follies, 'tis a comfort!
My very thoughts take more staid years upon 'em
O, marriage is such a serious, divine thing!
It makes youth grave, and sweetly nips the spring

L Gold If I had chose a gentleman for care And worldly business, I had ne'er took you, I had the offers of enough more fit For such employment, I chose you for love,

Youth, and content of heart, and not for troubles,
You are not ripe for them, after you've spent
Some twenty years in dalliance, youth's affairs, 40
Then take a book in your hand, and sum up cares,
As for wealth now, you know that's got to your hands
Mis Low But had I known't had been so wrongfully got,

As I heard since, you should have had free leave T' have made choice of another master for't

L Gold Why, can that trouble you?

Mis Low It¹ may too soon but go,

My sleeps are sound, I love not to be started

With an ill conscience at the fall of midnight,

And have mine eyes torn ope with poor men's curses,

I do not like the fate on't, 'tis still apt

To breed unrest, dissension, wild debate,

And I'm the worst at quarrels upon earth,

Unless a mighty injury should provoke me

Get you to bed, go

L Gold Not without you, in troth, sir
Mis Low If you could think how much you wrong yourself

In my opinion of you, you would leave me now
With all the speed you might, I like you worse
For this fond heat, and drink in more suspicion of you

You high fed widows are too cunning people

For a poor gentleman to come simply to

L Gold What's that, sir?

Mis Low You may make a youth on him,

'Tis at your courtesy, and that's ill trusted You could not want a friend, beside a suitor, To sit in your husband's gown, and look o'er your writings

L Gold What's this?

Mis Low I say there is a time when women Can do too much, and understand too little Once more, to bed, I'd willingly be a father To no more noses than I got myself, And so good night to you

L Gold Now I see the infection, A yellow 1 poison runs through the sweet spring 70 Of his fair youth already, 'tis distracted, Tealous of that which thought yet never acted — [Aside O dear sir, on my knees I swear to thee Mis Low I prithee, use them in thy private chamber, As a good lady should, spare 'em not there, 'Twill do thee good, faith, none 'twill do thee here

L Gold [rising] Have I yet married poverty, and miss'd2 love?

What fortune has my heart! that's all I crav'd, And that lies now a dying, it has took A speeding poison, and I'm ignorant how 80 I never knew what beggary was till now My wealth yields me no comfort in this plight, Had want but brought me love, I'd happened right [Aside, and goes into her bed chamber

The colour of jealousy

² Old ed "must"

Mis Low So, this will serve now for a prepara tive!

To ope the powers 1 of some dislike at first, The physic will pay't home —

Enter Low WATER, disguised as before

How dost thou, sir?

How goes the work?

Low Your brother has the letter

Mis Low I find no stop in't then, it moves well hitherto,

Did you convey it closely?

Low He ne'er set eye of me

Enter above 2 Beveril with a letter

Bev I cannot read too often
Mis Low Peace, to your office

90

Bev What blessed fate took pity of my heart, But with her presence to relieve me thus? All the large volumes that my time hath master'd Are not so precious to adorn my spirit As these few lines are to enrich my mind, I thirst again to drink of the same fountain

Reads

Kind sir,—I found your care and love so much in the performance of a little, wherein your wit and art had late employment, that I dare now trust your bosom with business of more weight and eminence. Little thought the world that, since the wedding dinner, all my mith was but dissembled, and seeming joys but counterfet. The truth to you, sir, is, I find so little signs of content in the bargain I made i' the morning, that I began to repent before even ing prayer, and to show some fruits of his wilful neglect and wild disposition, more than the day could bring forth to me, has now forsook my bed, I know no cause for't 107 Mis Low But I'll be sworn I do

Bev [reads] Being thus distressed, sir, I desure your comfortable presence and counsel, whom I know to be of worth and judgment, that a lady may safely impart her griefs to you, and commit'em to the virtues of commiseration and secrecy — Your unfortunate friend, The Widow-Wife

I have took order for your private admittance with a trusty servant of mine own, whom I have placed at my chamber-door to attend your coming

He shall not wait too long, and curse my slowness

Low I would you'd come away then! [Aside
Bev How much am I beguil'd in that young gentleman! 120

I would have sworn had been the perfect abstract Of honesty and mildness, 'tis not so

Mis Low I pardon you, sweet brother, there's no hold

Of what you speak now, you're in Cupid's pound [Aside Bev Blest be the secret hand that brought thee hither

But the dear hand that writ it, ten times blest !

Exit above

Low That's I still, has blest me now ten times at twice

Away, I hear him coming

Mis Low Strike it sure now

Low I warrant thee, sweet Kate, choose your best 1—— [Exit Misrress Low water

Bev Who's there?

Low O, sir, is't you? you're welcome then,

My lady still expects you, sir

Bev Who's with her?

Low Not any creature living, sir

Bev Drink that,

[Giving money

130

I've made thee wait too long

Low It does not seem so

I prefer to leave the text as it stands

Now, sir Sir, if a man tread warily,

As any wise man will, how often may he come

To a lady's chamber, and be welcome to her!

Bev Thou giv'st me learned counsel for a closet

Re enter Mistress Low water, with Sir O Twii ight, Lady Twilight, Sunset, Dutch Merchant, Grace, Jane, Philip Twilight, Sandfield, Savourwit, and Servants

Mis Low Pardon my rude disturbance, my wrongs urge it,

I did but try the planness of her mind, Suspecting she dealt cunningly with my youth, And told her the first night I would not know her, But minding to return, I found the door Warded suspiciously, and I heard a noise, Such as fear makes and guiltiness at th' approaching Of an unlook'd-for husband

All This is strange, sir

Mis Low Behold, it's burr'd, I must not be kept out

Sir O Twi There is no reason, sir Mis Low I'll be resolv'd 1 in't

If you be sons of honour, follow me!

150

[Rushes into the bed chamber, followed by Sir Oliver Twilight, Sunsel, &c

Sav Then must I stry behind, for I think I was begot i' the woodyard, and that makes everything go so hard with me

Mis Low [within] That's he, be sure on him

Re enter confusedly Mistress Low Water, Sir Oliver Twilight, Sunset, &c, Lady Goldenfleece and Beveril.

Sir O Twi Be not so furious, sir

Mis Low She whisper'd to him to slip into her closet—

What, have I taken you? is not my dream true now? Unmerciful adultress, the first night!

Sir O Twi Nay, good sir, patience

Mis Low Give me the villain's heart,

That I may throw't into her bosom quick!

There let the lecher pant

L Twi Nay, sweet sir-

Mis Low Pardon me,

His life's too little for me

L Gold How am I wrongfully sham'd '-Speak your intent, sir,

Before this company, I pursue no pity

Mis Low This is a fine thievish juggling, gentlemen, She asks her mate that shares in guilt with her, Too gross, too gross!

Bev Rash mischief!

Mis Low Treacherous sir,

Did I for this cast a friend's arm about thee,
Gave thee the welcome of a worthy spirit,
And lodg'd thee in my house, nay, entertain'd thee

More like a natural brother than a stranger?
And have I this reward? perhaps the pride
Of thy good parts did lift thee to this impudence,

Let her make much on 'em, she gets none of me Because thou'rt deeply read in most books else, Thou wouldst be so in mine, there it stands for thee, Turn o'er the leaves, and where you left, go forward, To me it shall be like the book of fate, Ever claspt up

Sir O Twi O dear sir, say not so!

Mis Low Nay, I'll swear more, for ever I refuse!

her,

180

I'll never set a foot into her bed, Never perform the duty of man to her, So long as I have breath

Sir O Twi What an oath was there, sir!
Call it again

Mis Low I knew, by amorous sparks struck from their eyes,

The fire would appear shortly in a blaze,
And now it flames indeed —Out of my house,
And take your gentleman of good parts along with you!
That shall be all your substance, he can live
In any emperor's court in Christendom 190
You knew what you did, wench, when you chose him
To thrust out me, you have no politic love!
You are to learn to make your market, you!
You can choose wit, a builden light and free,
And leave the grosser element with me,
Wealth, foolish trash, I thank you Out of my doors!

L Twi Sweet sir-

Mis Low Pray, to your chambers, gentlemen, I should be here

Master of what is mine

Si O Twi Hear her but speak, sir

Mis Low What can she speak but woman's common language?

She's sorry and asham'd for't,—that helps nothing L Gold Sir, since it is the hard hap of my life

To receive injury where I plac'd my love-

Mis Low Why, la, I told you what escapes she'd have !

Sir O Twi Nay, pray, sir, hear her forward L Gold Let our parting

Be full as charitable as our meeting was, That the pale, envious world, glad of the food Of others' miseries, civil dissensions, And nuptial strifes, may not feed fat with ours, But since you are resolv'd so wilfully To leave my bed, and ever to refuse me-As by your rage I find it your desire,

Though all my actions deserve nothing less—

Here are our friends, men both of worth and wisdom,

Place so much power in them, to make an evenness

Between my peace and yours all my wealth within doors,

In gold and jewels, he[s] in those two caskets I lately led you to, the value of which

Amounts to some five thousand [pounds] a piece, 220 Exchange a charitable hand with me,

And take one casket freely,—fare thee well, sir

Sir O Twi How say you to that now?

Mis Low Troth, I thank her, sir!

Are not both mine already? you shall wrong me,

And then make satisfaction with mine own!

I cannot blame you,—a good course for you

L Gold I knew 1 'twas not my luck to be so happy, My miseries are no starters, when they come, Stick longer by me

Sir O Twn Nay, but give me leave, sir, The wealth comes all by her

Mis Low So does the shame,

230

Yet that's most mine, why should not that be too?

Sir O Twi Sweet sir, let us rule so much with you,

Since you intend an obstinate separation,
Both from her bed and board, give your consent
To some agreement reasonable and honest

Mis Low Must I deal honestly with her lust?

L Twi Nay, good sir-

Mis Low Why, I tell you, all the wealth her husband left her

Is not of power to purchase the dear peace

L Gold His wife, then nurse both to her own and yours,

And both so young, of equal years, and daughters,
Fearing the extremity of her fortunes then
Should fall upon her infant, to prevent it,
She chang'd the children, kept your daughter with her,
And sent her own to you for better fortunes
So long, enjoin'd by solemn oath unto't
Upon her deathbed, I have conceal'd this,
But now so urg'd, here's yours, and this is his

Sav Whoop, the joy is come of our side!

Spoken by Weatherwise

Now, let me see, what weather shall we have now? Hold fair now, and I care not [looking at almanac] mass, full moon too Just between five and six this afternoon! This happens right, [reads] The sky for the best part clear, Save here and there a cloud or two dispers'd,-That's some dozen of panders and half a score Pickpockets, you may know them by their whistle. And they do well to use that while they may, For Tyburn cracks the pipe and spoils the music What says the destiny of the hour this evening? Hah, [reads] Fear no colours ! 1 by my troth, agreed then, The red and white looks cheerfully, for, know ye all, The planet's Jupiter, you should be jovial, There's nothing lets 2 it but the Sun i' the Dog Some bark in corners that will fawn and cog,3 Glad of my fragments for their ember week,
